

Postpone Gemini Shot After 'Pilot' Troubles

Mission 'Scrubbed' Again As Astronauts Prepare to Enter Rendezvous Capsule

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The Gemini 11 rendezvous and space walk mission was postponed today until Monday morning because of problems with an automatic pilot system in the Atlas-Agena target rocket.

The launching was called off at 8:16 a.m. as the astronauts, Navy Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr. and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr. were in their ready room quarters about 1,200 feet from their launch pad.

They had been on the verge of entering their spacecraft just an hour before when the trouble developed in the Atlas booster rocket on launch pad 14, some 6,000 feet away from the Gemini launch pad.

They took the elevator down to the ground level and returned to their quarters in a white van while engineers wrestled with the problem in the Atlas autopilot.

As they walked to the truck carrying them to the suit-up trailer, both astronauts had wry grins.

'Little Farther'

"Tomorrow! Conrad, normally a chatty man, said. Gordon, right behind him, commented: "Well, we got a little farther today." This was an obvious reference to Friday when they were still asleep when trouble developed, forcing a 24-hour delay.

It was the second straight day the astronauts had been stymied in their effort to take off on an intended three-day space adventure, during which they were to attempt man's fastest rendezvous and link-up with an Agena satellite.

The launching was postponed Friday when a tiny leak developed in the fuel system of the Titan 2. This occurred in the early stages of the countdown.

while the astronauts were still sleeping.

It was repaired with a goopy substance called "water glass" worth less than a penny.

The problem today cropped up as the countdown on the Atlas-Agena target rocket stood at 25 minutes, aiming for a 7:48 a.m. liftoff.

The countdown on Gemini 11s Titan 2 at that time stood at 120 minutes.

The times given are EST.

Air War Continues As Viet Cong Start Pre-election Terror

American Jets, MIG's Tangle For First Time in One Month

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The air war against the north kept up with full fury today as South Viet Nam prepared for a national election.

The Viet Cong launched a wave of pre-election terror in Saigon.

In ground fighting, several clashes were reported in widely separated areas on the eve of voting to select a 117-man assembly which is to give South Viet Nam a new constitution.

A U.S. spokesman said intelligence men uncovered a Viet Cong plan to attack an American military billet and a Saigon radio station just prior to the election. He said security guards were increased at both installations.

American jets tangled in an exchange of fire with three Communist MIGs Friday only 30 miles south of the border of Communist China. The encounter which pilots said ranged down to tree-top level, broke off without damage to either side.

Attack Trains

Other U.S. Air Force planes attacked three trains on the main northeast rail line from Hanoi to Red China while carrier-based Navy jets reported sinking a North Vietnamese torpedo boat and damaging a second.

American pilots flew 122 missions against the Communist north Friday, and the forays cost one plane — an Air Force F-105 Thunderchief — as a U.S. spokesman said. The pilot is missing.

It was the 363rd U.S. plane lost over North Viet Nam.

The most daring of the Viet Cong attacks was the mining Saturday of a 20-car train on the outskirts of Saigon. Two mines blew five of the cars off the rails and injured six persons.

In a series of other incidents, Communist terrorists tossed grenades at election polling places, sound trucks and election workers in and around Saigon.

In the scattered ground fighting, U.S. Marines supported by air power reported killing 11 Communist soldiers Friday in a fight 14 miles south of Da Nang.

1st Division Clash

Other air-supported Marines reported killing 23 North Vietnamese soldiers in fighting just south of the demilitarized zone in northern Quang Tri Province.

Just eight miles north of Saigon, units of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division found a Viet Cong base camp and clashed with an enemy force of unknown size. A spokesman said the Viet Cong broke contact after the infantrymen called in artillery and air fire. One Viet Cong was found dead in a subsequent sweep and U.S. casualties were termed light.

The U.S. command also dis-

Protest Halted For One Month

Professor Announces Recess to Meet With National Spokesmen

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A civil rights organization, protesting membership by public officials in the all-white Fraternal Order of Eagles, has agreed to extend a week-long recess in demonstrations to Oct. 16 or later.

The agreement, announced Friday by Prof. Nathan Feinsinger of the University of Wisconsin, came 24 hours before expiration of an earlier one-week truce arranged by Feinsinger.

At the request of Atty. Gen. Bronson La Follette, he is acting as mediator in the dispute between the Eagles and the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The latest action will permit Feinsinger to meet separately with national representatives of both sides. He said the sessions will be followed by a joint meeting of both groups.

Before the first truce was arranged, the council had staged a series of nightly demonstrations at the homes of two judges and Rep. Clement Zablocki, D-Wis., who are members of the Eagles.

The protest caused Gov. Warren Knowles to call out the National Guard to protect demonstrators from crowds of hecklers in suburban Wauwatosa.

"The opportunity for reconciliation is much greater today than any before," Feinsinger said Friday. "It is going to be tough but I am optimistic, if incidents are avoided."

The Rev. James E. Groppi, a white Catholic priest who is adviser to the Youth Council, was at the news conference when the truce extension was announced.

"The issue here is public officials who belong to segregated clubs," he said. "We have given assurance that we will not picket the homes of public officials in Milwaukee County on this particular issue for the period stated."

Pay Increase For Lawmakers Nears Approval

Personnel Board OK's Salary Hike, Joint Finance Group Next

MADISON (AP)—A hefty pay hike to $8,400 a year for Wisconsin senators and assemblymen is only one step away from becoming law.

The pay plan encountered a vote in public for the first time Friday and sailed past the test in just nine minutes as the State Personnel Board decided it had no business debating the precise amount of the raise.

By a 5-0 vote, the Personnel Board sent the pay package onto the Legislature's Joint Finance Committee where it will automatically become law if approved without change.

Personnel Board Chairman John H. Shields said the proposed $3,000-a-year boost "is neither unconscionably low or exorbitantly high."

Shields said the Finance Committee, comprising 14 lawmakers, should tackle the task of deciding whether the exact sum should be approved.

Public Hearing

The Finance Committee has a public hearing scheduled Thursday in the Capitol. No date has been set.

Carmichael Awaits Grand Jury Action

Backers Say Leader 'Political Prisoner' After Thursday Arrest

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, which claims its chairman, Stokely Carmichael, is a "political prisoner," has asked a federal court to nullify anti-riot laws under which he was arrested.

Carmichael is in jail under $10,000 bond awaiting grand jury action on charges that he helped instigate a disturbance in an impoverished Negro neighborhood Tuesday.

A suit filed Friday on behalf of SNCC and its leader challenges five sections of the Georgia code and Atlanta's disorderly conduct ordinance, and asks that a three-judge panel be appointed immediately to hear the case. No hearing date has been set.

Carmichael, 25, was arrested Thursday night. He appeared before a judge Friday and waived preliminary hearing on a state charge of inciting to riot and a city disturbance charge.

The grand jury was in session, but recessed, saying it may be more than a week before Carmichael's case comes up.

SNCC, which says 17 of its members are now jailed in Atlanta with bonds totaling some $70,000, also demanded in its suit a permanent injunction against city officials to prohibit "impeding, intimidating, hindering" members in exercising their rights.

O'Konski Suffers From Exhaustion

RHINELANDER (AP)—Rep. Alvin O'Konski, R-Wis., has been hospitalized here since early this week, suffering from complete exhaustion.

Dr. Otto Rosemeyer added that O'Konski had experienced a strong warning of a heart condition.

O'Konski said that he had been getting only two or three hours sleep a night. He said he became concerned when he experienced chest pains, but never considered the possibility of a heart attack. He is due to leave the hospital Sunday.

Wins Swimsuit Competition 'Miss California' Favored

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Miss California, a late entry who was only second choice in her state, was first-choice favorite today as 50 contestants headed down the home stretch of the Miss America pageant.

The slender, talented beauty, Charlene Diane Dallas, 19, of Danville, Calif., won the swimsuit competition Friday night in the final round of preliminary judging. She had taken a talent trophy Wednesday, playing a classical piano solo.

Charlene, a California State College sophomore who got to represent her state when first choice Donna Danzer abdicated, described her second victory as a "double surprise."

Miss Danzer vacated her title for personal reasons the night of the state contest.

The double victory makes Charlene a top candidate for one of the 10 semifinalist positions from which Miss America will be selected tonight.

Along with the cherished crown and its accompanying fame, Miss America 1967 receives a $10,000 scholarship and $75,000 in personal appearance fees.

Another talented beauty, 19-year-old Jane Anne Jayroe of Laverne, Okla., won the talent trophy in Friday night's judging when she stepped to the orchestra pit, took the baton from the conductor and led the pageant orchestra in a swinging novelty tune, "One, Two, Three."

Miss Oklahoma, clad in black tights, tie and tails, moved her curvy figure in rhythm with the music and sang as she conducted.

Afterwards she told newsmen she would like a career as an orchestra conductor but might go into musical comedy.

Bill 'Needs a Few Friends'

U.S. Senate Fails to Muster Quorum Rights Talks Put Off Until Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—After failing again to muster enough members for a quorum, the Senate has put off discussion of the administration's civil rights bill until Monday.

Opponents of the legislation indicated it would fare no better then.

"The bill shows no signs of hurricane animation," Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen observed after Friday's session. "In fact it is languishing. It needs a few friends. It has plenty of enemies."

Dirksen is opposed to the bill's controversial open housing section which would ban discrimination in the sale and rental of housing—with exceptions for home and small apartment building owners.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., said he is convinced a majority of senators are opposed to the bill in its present form. They would be "here to answer quorum calls if they really supported the bill," he said.

Called 'Proof'

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., agreed and said the failure to get a quorum "is proof to all that the good people of the North, East and West have let their senators know that they do not want this legislation passed."

Only 48 senators put in an appearance on the floor Friday — three short of the 51 necessary for a quorum.

The absentees included several senators who have been strong advocates of the pending bill.

These were Sens. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.; Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.; Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill.; Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M.; Wayne Morse, D-Ore.; Clifford P. Case, R-N.J.; and Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif.

A chief reason for the heavy absenteeism apparently is the forthcoming congressional elections. Ten Republicans and eight Democrats now actively campaigning for re-election did not show up Friday.

Another factor may be that Williams and others are right in saying that many of the senators are not in favor of the bill in its present form.

Despite this, administration leaders indicated they are not considering any changes.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has said he does not think the bill could pass without Dirksen's help, but at least two other senators remain publicly optimistic.

Sens. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., both conceded they were disappointed with the Senate's lack of action on the bill this week but added that they are sending out word for civil rights supporters to be on hand Monday.

Crews Start Work at Plant in Baraboo

BARABOO (AP)—The Badger Ordnance Works, ripped by an explosion that has halted its production of gunpowder for the war in Viet Nam, may be back in operation sooner than the three-month period originally predicted.

Capt. Sidney I. Davis, the plant commander, said Friday special cleanup crews already had moved into the wrecked buildings and facilities could be constructed sooner than first thought. How much sooner he didn't say.

Davis fixed the damage estimate in Thursday's blast at nearly $1.5 million, three times the original figure. The explosion injured 11 men and splintered two buildings involved in the final stages of production of ball powder for cartridges used in new M16 rifles.

Negro Teachers Wallace May Test State's 'Police Power' in Schools

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—School boards which have assigned Negroes to teach white pupils have a warning from Gov. George C. Wallace today to remove them or he may invoke the state's "police power" to do it.

That could mean the deployment of state troopers to carry out the governor's ultimatum. Wallace used them three years ago to block temporarily initial integration of Alabama schools.

His new warning was directed to school authorities in Tuscaloosa and Lauderdale counties and any others which may have desegregated faculties without a federal court order.

The governor said those boards have violated the newly enacted state law which nullifies agreements to comply with the desegregation guidelines drawn up by the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

He called on them to take immediate action to reassign teachers to schools of their own race, and at the same time to "make a re-examination and re-evaluation" of pupil assignments.

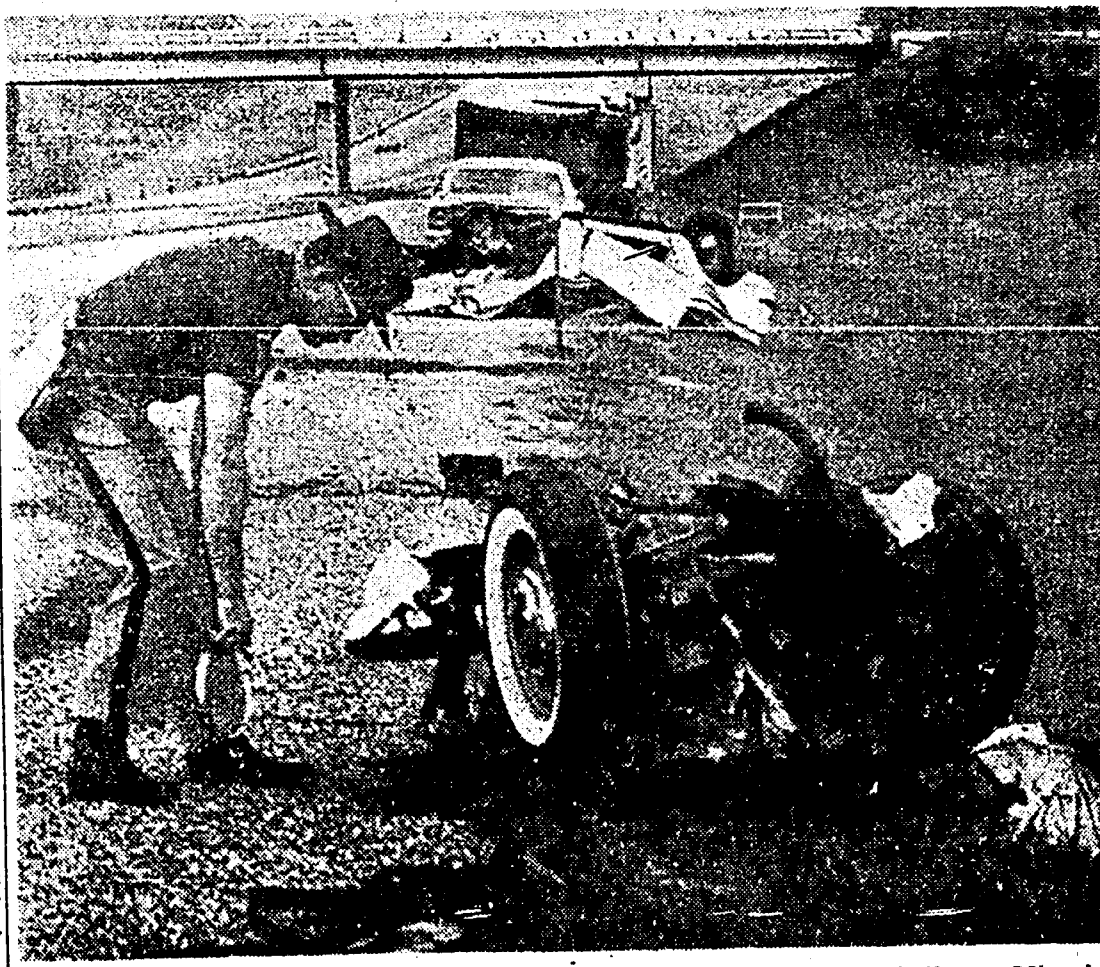

Wallace, who made the ultimatum at a news conference Friday, declined to say what he might do if the school boards disregard his admonition.

But he said the time may come when it will be necessary to "assert the police power of the state to preserve the peace and tranquility."

His warning would apply to white teachers transferred to Negro schools as well as Negroes assigned to teach white pupils.

But Wallace's main concern, he said, was the protest from white parents objecting to their children being taught by Negroes.

He said more than 2,000 residents of Tuscaloosa have signed petitions to remove Negro teachers from two schools there.

been set for the committee's own debate on the proposal.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles appeared before the Personnel Board to back a pay raise for state highway patrolmen, but refused any comment to newsmen on the $8,400 sum for legislators.

"I don't think it is incumbent upon me to comment," the governor said.

Knowles vetoed a raise from $5,400 to $9,600 a year passed in the waning days of the 1966 session, but signed into law the machinery for setting lawmakers' pay through state agencies rather than by open vote on the floor of the Legislature.

The $8,400 sum was recommended by the Kellett Committee, an advisory group created by the governor, after exhaustive research on the demands of public service in terms of time and money. But the meetings were kept private and William R. Kellett of Neenah, the chairman, conceded no vote was ever taken.

Endorsed $8,400 Sum

The State Bureau of Personnel endorsed the $8,400 sum before a public hearing, decided after the hearing it had no reason to change its recommendation, and moved it on to the Personnel Board with its backing. Carl K. Wettengel, the bureau director, said no vote was taken in the bureau's private discussions.

The Personnel Board members spent only one-fifth as much time in talking about the legislators' pay raise as they did in debating at length a much smaller pay hike for state highway patrolmen.

"I fell we're not in a position here to reconsider all that has been done on this," said board member Jerry M. Slechta.

"The board should not substitute its judgment for that of the director," Shiels said.

"I have nothing to say," fellow member William Ahrens said.

ected that one of three Atlas engines was not swiveling as planned during a last-minute check of the guidance and control system.

The guidance system, located in another building on the cape, sends radio signals to the autopilot, which then feeds them to the engines.

During flight, this system is used to steer the rocket into the proper orbital path.

Apparently, some defect in the autopilot prevented the signal from reaching the No. 2 Atlas engine. The autopilot is in a canister on the side of the Atlas.

It was one engine of a similar Atlas that swiveled wildly in flight on the first attempt to launch the Gemini 9 mission in May, thus causing the Agena and Atlas to plunge crazily in the sea.

Officials at first thought they might be able to replace the autopilot in time for a launching today, but evaluation of the problem indicated it would require two to three hours to do this and an additional two hours to launch the rockets.

On this timetable, they said, the lighting conditions for the planned first-orbit rendezvous would not be satisfactory.

Conrad and Gordon had planned to pursue the Agena across the sky, catching it in just 80 minutes high over Hawaii, and latching onto it 10 minutes later.

7 Minutes Darkness

For the rendezvous, the astronauts require at least seven minutes of darkness so they can see guiding lights on the Agena. The actual docking would occur in daylight.

A successful docking would trigger three adventurous days in space, in which the astronauts would push man's exploration in this strange world of space to new horizons.

Gemini 9 holds the present rendezvous record, capturing its

PSC Announces Hearing for Nuclear Plant

MADISON (AP)—Plans for a $65 million nuclear power plant at Two Creeks will be examined at a public hearing Oct. 11.

The Public Service Commission announced the hearing Thursday and said it had reserved an extra day if needed to consider the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. proposal.

The utility has said it hopes to have the facilities, named the Point Beach Nuclear plant, in operation by April, 1970.

The plant's cost is estimated at $60.6 million. Also involved in the Manitowoc County project are a substation and power lines. The nuclear core for the plant will cost another $15 million above the construction estimate, the PSC said.

The hearing, to start at 10 a.m. will be conducted at the Hill Farms State Office Building here.

Shainwold Test Old Proverb in Bridge Hand

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

According to an old bridge proverb, a bird in the hand is worth more than a poke in the eye. If you don't take the bird, your partner may give you the poke.

West opens the six of diamonds, and you have the chance to test the old proverb. If you play a low diamond from the dummy, you may expect to hear from your partner.

South dealer Both sides vulnerable

WEST EAST

South West North East

NT Pass 3 NT All Pass

East wins the first trick with the queen of diamonds and returns the jack of spades. Your best play is to step up with the ace of spades. Now you must develop the clubs and hope that East stays out of the lead.

This plan doesn't work because there is no way to duck a club trick to West. East gets in with the queen of clubs and returns the ten of spades. The defenders thereupon defeat the contract with the rest of the spades.

You can get the bird in this hand by taking the first trick with the ace of diamonds and going right after the clubs. You have at least nine sure tricks as soon as you regain the lead, and you are quite safe since East can take only one club and two diamonds at most.

The correct play at the first trick is easy because West's six of diamonds is clearly not a fourth-highest lead. The play would be equally correct even if West had led a lower diamond.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 NT (next to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold: S-K-7-6-2 H-8-6-5-3-2 D-6-3 C-9-4. What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass. Your partner will probably go down, but you cannot be sure that you will improve matters by bidding two hearts. However, if your partner's is doubled, you run to two hearts as a rescue.

closed that a new search-and-destroy operation, named Bangor, had been under way since Tuesday, 12 miles northwest of Saigon. Participating were units of the 2nd Brigade of the 1st Infantry Division.

South Vietnamese military headquarters reported 37 Viet Cong were killed Friday in three separate clashes with government troops.

MIG Encounter

The MIG encounter over North Viet Nam was the first in nearly a month.

A flight of Thunderchiefs attacking a missile site 85 miles northeast of Hanoi was jumped by the MIGs as the U.S. pilots were coming off their target. The MIGs came from behind and opened fire, a U.S. spokesman said. During the encounter, at a low altitude, one of the Thunderchiefs fired at one MIG but neither side scored.

In the attacks on North Vietnamese trains, Air Force Thunderchiefs struck at two of the trains 55 miles northeast of Hanoi. Pilots reported destroying one locomotive and 30 boxcars of the two trains which had about 25 cars each.

In other attacks on the northeast rail line, Air Force pilots hit a rail yard 45 miles from Hanoi and another yard 10 miles farther north.

U.S. pilots flew repeated sorties against a surface-to-air missile site 30 miles northwest of Dong Hoi Friday. It was the third straight day Air Force pilots attacked the site.

Two North Vietnamese torpedo boats were spotted moored at an island 49 miles northeast of Haiphong. U. S. Navy fliers reported receiving antiaircraft fire from the boats and attacked with rockets and bombs. The pilots reported one boat was sunk and that the other received multiple hits by Zuni rockets.

In air activity over South Viet Nam, the U. S. spokesman reported an F5 Freedom Fighter jet went down 60 miles southwest of Saigon after the pilot made a napalm attack on enemy positions. The spokesman said there was no ground fire and the cause of the crash was not known. The pilot was killed.

American pilots flew 451 sorties over South Viet Nam Friday, and pilots claimed destroying or damaging 426 enemy huts, sampans, trenches and other fortified positions. South Vietnamese pilots flew an additional 321 combat sorties.

U. S. B52 bombers struck today at a Viet Cong based camp and troop concentration 40 miles northwest of the coastal city of Qui Nhon in Binh Dinh Province.

A U. S. spokesman reported that F100 Supersabre jets and armed helicopters attacked what he called a Viet Cong sabotage school camp two miles south of Saigon Friday night. The attacks, with other planes dropping illumination flares, were witnessed by Saigon residents from rooftops. Enemy casualties were not known, the spokesman said.

Widow Disillusioned by Late Husband's Greedy Friends

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have been a widow for almost two years and I wouldn't wish this life on a dog.

Before my husband died he told me about two business deals he was making with a couple of friends. They were not in writing — merely oral agreements. My husband passed away before the deals were consummated.

The two friends couldn't do enough for me. They included me in their plans, took me places, and I was touched by their consideration.

After the estate was settled I followed through on the two deals and paid both parties every cent. The minute the money was in their hands, the friends disappeared. I have not seen nor heard from them since.

Don't tell me I did the right thing and that I should not regret it because now I can live with my conscience. It is just as hard to live with the bitter resentment that I feel. — Widow Beware

Dear B.: I am not going to tell you anything. You didn't write because you wanted advice. You wrote to unload your hostility. Now that you've done it I hope you feel better. If you don't, please write again. That's what I'm here for.

By all means, speak to the mother — privately, of course — and urge her to talk the situation over with someone who can explain it well.

Royal also plays guitar, drums and piano.

Intruder Breaks Into Restaurant, Brings Along His Own Bird

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Lansing police can't blame hunger as the motive for a break-in in a downtown restaurant.

They said that whoever broke into the eating place brought his own chicken and cooked it over a coffee-maker heating unit. The intruder did take a few french fried onion rings, they added.

Jingo Sees 'Hawk' as Interesting, Sharp

New York-Based Police Drama Headed For Controversy, Reviewer Believes

BY JINGO — This has endured 26 novels, 41 movies, five new series debuted, hundreds of comic strips, Thursday, and as is expected, and comic books and 13 actors, with television; some were considerably better than others.

Hawk—There's bound to be controversy about "Hawk," the New York-based drama featuring Burt Reynolds as Det. Lt. John Hawk, an American Indian assigned to the night side of his metropolitan district for the district attorney's office.

For one thing, in the opening episode Hawk hunted down a Bible-spouting paranoid who took out his animosity toward automation—which had cost him his job as an elevator operator—on assorted young women vaguely associated with machines.

For another, Hawk is a cop, not a psychologist, and his primary interest lies in rounding up the offender, not in diagnosing his particular psychosis.

Be that as it may, "Hawk" manages, by taking its cameras to the streets and dives of Manhattan, to capture a great deal of the impersonality, the brutality, and the sleaziness of the underside of the metropolis.

It is a sharply edited, expertly lensed production, taut and undeniably exciting, with much of the fascination of an off-the-cuff documentary. Not unexpectedly, its executive is Hubbell Robinson, who is also responsible for ABC's major "quality" entry of the year, "Stage 67."

Reynolds, a good actor who played Quint in "Gunsmoke" for two years, has expert support in Wayne Grice, an Actors Studio alumnus, who portrays Hawk's assistant and protege, Detective Carter.

Sam Wanamaker, one of Broadway's better actors, directed the opening episode crisply and with a flair for the visual. "Hawk's" chances of survival are dimmed by the fact that it is slotted against two established hits, "Dean Martin" and "The CBS Thursday Night Movie."

acted show can survive against the combined opposition of newcomer "Tammy Grimes" (reviewed elsewhere in this column) and the durable family comedy, "My Three Sons."

Jingo's guess is that the "Enterprise" will still be exploring the galaxy several seasons hence.

That Girl — Marlo Thomas is so cute and co-star Ted Bessell is so handsome in his slightly cross-eyed way that ABC should find success with its Thursday "Ladies' Night" scheduling; at least two-thirds of it.

Following "Bewitched," this show is going to be funny. The two main stars, especially Miss Thomas, have excellent senses of timing — the most important ingredient for effective comedy.

The advance premiere established how Marlo, as Ann Marie, met her boyfriend, Don Hollinger, played by Bessell. In future weeks, the girl's parents, played by Rosemary De Camp and Lew Parker, will be introduced.

The competition from NBC will be tough ("The Hero," which is pre-empted in this area), but Marlo has enough of that Thomas charm to win many regular viewers.

The Tammy Grimes Show — How can a tremendous talent be made to look so dull on TV? With Miss Grimes, the answer is simply dumb plot.

Using every obvious sight gag invented, including a chase in and out of doors in a corridor, the premiere show must rate as the most poorly done series debuted this week.

Executive producer William Dozier, so successful with "Batman," should be lectured severely for the bad thing he's done here. It can only tarnish Miss Grimes' reputation and make co-stars Dick Sargent, Hiram Sherman and Maude Prickett look bad.

Shane Tale Of Virtue Over Evil

BY TV SCOUT —

6:30-7:30 (Channels 11-6-9) — The comparison between Shane and the George Stevens classic, by the same name is an obvious one. David Carradine, as did the late Alan Ladd in the film, plays a reluctant gunfighter who eventually has to shoot it out to protect the rights of a widow and her young son. It's a haunting, wistful tale of virtue over evil where villains are greedily cold-blooded and heroes are gallant knights. In the first episode the whiskey Bertie Funn gets particular joy out of burning make-shift school houses and scaring frail school marm rabbits like Diane Ladd until Shane intervenes.

Carradine is steely and effective in the title role: a brooding mountain lion, restless but determined in his plains life. Jill Ireland suffers admirably in her widowhood, trying to be a resourceful mom to Christopher Shea, an enchanting tyke. Tom Tully is gruff and sensible enough to be a believable grandfather figure. (COLOR) Premiere

6:30-7:30 (Channels 2-7-12) —

Continental Showcase in its final fling brings back filmed highlights of its previous shows; the Kessler Twins sing "That's Entertainment;" Udo Jurgens offers "Old Man River;" Ester and Abi Ofarim provides "400 Miles From My Home," and the Buckingham Palace Band performs "South Rampart Street Parade." Jim Backus is host. (R)

7:30-8:30 (Channels 2-12) — Secret Agent's final assignment finds Patrick McGoochan on the sunny shores of Jamaica.

8:30-Conclusion (Channels 2-7) — National Football League Game begins its season in Milwaukee where the Green Bay Packers meet the Baltimore Colts. Commentators are Chuck Thompson and Ray Scott. Pat Summerall handles the play-by-play. Season Premiere

9-11 (Channels 4-5) — The Miss America Pageant, live from Atlantic City, is the annual sweepstakes to seek the "fairest" of the land. Debbie Bryant of Kansas, the current title holder, will give up her crown after a medley of tunes which include "A Winner Never Quits (A Quitter Never Wins)," "Miss America Waltz" and "Go Where Your Dream Leads." ## The Democratic Primary

The most crowded Democratic gubernatorial primary election campaign in more than a decade of Wisconsin political competition is drawing to an end. Four men have roamed the highways of Wisconsin for the last six months or more in search of audiences willing to listen to their reasons why they should be chosen by the Democratic party's voters for the task of challenging Republican Governor Knowles' candidacy for a second term in November.

That they have been having their difficulties finding listeners for their proposals and complaints and aspersions of their rival nomination aspirants is indicated by their cautious calculations of the number of votes likely to be polled on their ballot next Tuesday. The consensus is that the Democratic total may be very little more than 300,000, which would be a modest attainment indeed for all of the publicity and speech-making and traveling these men have expended.

The view of the professional political reporters, buttressed by the hunches of the observant Republican politicians, is that Lt. Gov. Lucey is the favorite to win the top place on the Democratic ticket. Such an assumption is partly based on form, as they would put it in sports circles. He is obviously the best known figure in the party, excepting such men as Sens. Proxmire and Nelson who now hold high office. He has had the advantage of an effective publicity rostrum for two years. He probably has more and more intimate contacts with local organization chieftains, after more than two decades of ardent party service.

It was 18 years ago, for example, that a cadre of minority politicians, some of them former Progressives whose party had been dismantled, more of them younger Democrats interested in putting life into a nearly moribund Democratic party structure, gathered in Green Bay to fashion the Democratic state machinery on a voluntary basis which survives today. One of those founders was Patrick Lucey, then an ambitious young politician from Crawford County. Among others present were some of the most prominent office-holders among present Democratic spokesmen. But not present were such men as David Carley, then a college student, or Dominic Frinzi, then a fledgling Milwaukee lawyer, or Abe Swed, who are now Lucey's rivals for the titular leadership of the party. It is such seniority and proof of loyalist credentials that tends to pay off in a small primary vote in which the impact of the faithful is proportionately heavy.

The primary campaign has been useless to Gov. Knowles and his Republican allies for what it has shown, or more particularly, failed to show, about effective issues the Democratic strategists may possess. So competitive was the primary that it seems likely that whatever ammunition the Democrats have been shown in detail. The issues have been numerous, such as they are, but we seriously doubt that any of them will be hurtful, or that many of them will be communicable in effective terms to the independent voter who in November as in most recent Wisconsin elections will turn the scales in the fight between the Republican and Democratic voting regulars.

Assassination in Africa

The assassination of Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd was another tragic event in a world where violence has not been abandoned. It will not help to solve the troubles in the Republic of South Africa nor to ease living conditions for the millions of blacks who make up the great majority of that nation's population. Its major effect will be only to frighten the ruling whites into tightening restrictions and widening the gap between the races.

Verwoerd was a strong advocate of apartheid — in fact he coined the term from a Dutch word meaning apartness. His dream and that of his followers was a South Africa for the elite whites who would benevolently treat the blacks kindly but as inferior beings. In an Africa rapidly coming under black control, it was a dangerous path. And although backers of apartheid can now point smugly to the failures of almost every black nation in Africa to support a financially and politically responsible government, underneath the gloss South Africa simmered. There was always the fear of what would certainly be a fantastically bloody revolt.

But Americans cannot point to the assassination of Verwoerd as a direct result of his policies although the killer apparently felt strongly about them. We know from our own tragedy of 1963 that an assassin, unless he is directly connected to a conspiracy, may be simply a madman whose fantasies require him to kill.

Two Notable Deaths

Two noted leaders in two fields of service to mankind died this week. Both Mrs. Margaret Sanger and Dr. William Menninger from their life's work in different but equally controversial fields. And to a large extent both lived to have their points of view vindicated.

Even after Dr. Freud's research in psychiatry became well known, the field raised more suspicions than confidence in many people. Dr. Menninger, with his father and brother, operated the Menninger psychiatric clinic in Topeka, Kansas, the Menninger Foundation Psychiatric Hospital and the Foundation itself dedicated to psychiatric research and the training of workers in all fields of mental health. The program they developed in Kansas has had world acclaim.

More than fifty years ago Mrs. Sanger opened the world's first birth control clinic. In the post-Victorian world where anything to do with sex was hush-hush, Mrs. Sanger's insistence that family planning was a fit topic for discussion and education had the impact of a bomb. She was attacked from pulpits and on editorial pages and charged with contributing to immorality and delinquency. In similar ways the Menningers' push for mental health work raised some ridiculous opposition.

It took courage and conviction to persevere against the pressures of public opinion. There is still opposition to birth control, particularly the use of contraceptives, and to mental health programs and psychiatry. But these two pioneers lived long enough at least to see the subjects brought out into the open and to an increasing extent debated honestly and reasonably.

People's Forum

Social Security Financing Data by Tax Foundation Called Misleading

Editor, Post-Crescent:

In connection with statistical data recently released by the Tax Foundation regarding the financing of the Social Security program, a Post-Crescent editorial was published Thursday, Aug. 18. Because of the misleading data released by the Tax Foundation, the following facts are being provided.

The Tax Foundation statistics indicate that a wage earner will have paid about $32,500 in social security tax after 44 years of his working life. This is definitely not correct. A worker pays a specific percentage of taxable income each year and this is matched by his employer. The $32,500 figure was arrived at by the Tax Foundation using the taxable earnings base and taxable percentage rate beginning after the year 1936, and by assuming that the worker (wage earner) worked 44 years after that or to the year 2030. Even then the total taxes in the entire 44-year period from 1937 to 2030 for social security purposes would be only one-half of the $32,500 as the other one-half would be the employer's contribution.

Thus, after 1986, a worker will be paying $372.90 per year in social security taxes. For this, he is providing insurance that pays him and members of his family monthly benefit payments if he should retire, become so disabled as to prevent his engaging in substantial gainful activity, or should death occur. Further, the wage earner and his wife (or widow) would have benefit of Medicare. All such insurance protection is provided without medical examination(s) and despite the fact that death benefits or Medicare hospital and/or physician services are provided based on illness or disability created by an already existing condition. This type of protection cannot, and understandably so, be provided by private insurance.

The maximum taxable income from 1937 through 1949 was $3,000 per year at one percent. No one wage earner, therefore, could possibly have paid more than $30 per year in social security taxes during that period. The taxable income and percentage deductions were gradually increased since 1949 so that through 1965 the most any worker could pay in social security taxes was $174 and the total social security taxes from January 1, 1937 through December 31, 1965 would have been $2,106; twenty-nine years insurance protection for the wage earner and his family for a total of $2,106.

The Social Security

provisions did not cover the self-employed persons until January 1, 1951, and covered other groups such as farm operators, accountants, attorneys, and members of the medical profession in various years from 1955 to 1965. The tax rate for the self-employed is higher than for the worker because there isn't an employer to share in the costs. Even then no self-employed person could possibly have paid more than a total of $2,501.70 in social security taxes over those years from January, 1951 through December, 1965.

It is unfortunate that on occasion an organization, such as the Tax Foundation, will present distorted data as factual and confuse the reader not only as to his contributions but also as to possible benefits payable. Thus, it is suggested that any one desiring any information regarding his individual social security account contact the social security district office nearest his residence.

I wish to take advantage of this opportunity to express sincere appreciation for the cooperation always extended to our office by all staff members of The Post-Crescent.

Vietnamese War Actually Involves Five Countries in Southeast Asia

BY CONRAD FINK

Associated Press Writer

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Viet Nam's war virtually has become a wider and more dangerous Southeast Asian war with fighting exploding on or from the soil of five countries.

Stepped-up air and ground combat is involving not only North and South Viet Nam but also various degrees neighboring Laos, Cambodia and Thailand.

And in addition to soldiers of both Viet Nams and the United States, the war today is being fought by troops or support personnel from Thailand, the Philippines, South Korea, Australia and New Zealand.

With war thus knocking at more and more doors, the atmosphere in Southeast Asia is thick with fear that even greater conflict could erupt.

Thailand's foreign minister, Thanat Khoman, has declared that the war "poses a great threat" to peace and stability in the entire region.

CALL FOR PEACE
Malaysia, the Philippines and Thailand, using their newly-created Association of Southeast Asia as a forum, have called for concerted peace efforts from the people most directly involved — Asians.

Here in Thailand, which officially is holding the Viet Nam war at arm's length, signs of involvement are everywhere.

At Bangkok Airport, the thunder of U.S. Air Force jets assaults the ears of casual tourists. In the remote northeastern village of Nu Mon, the headman proudly shows visitors the twisted propeller of a U.S. plane that crashed nearby.

Thailand, while fighting its own small-scale Communist insurrection, has sent an Air Force contingent to Viet Nam and is providing the U.S. Air Force with valuable real estate from which to fight.

American aircraft are launched at North Viet Nam and Communist-controlled portions of Laos from Thai bases at Takhliv, Korat, Idorn and Ubon. Other bases are at Setthaheep and Khan Kaen.

The Thai and U.S. governments do not acknowledge this, even though Bangkok bar girls and illiterate peasants for miles around the bases know what is going on — as do the Communists, judging from their broadcasts.

About 27,000 American troops now are in Thailand but only part of the U.S. buildup is advertised.

STOCKS FOR TROOPS
At Korat, in central Thailand, the 9th Logistics Command openly maintains "pre-positioned stock" in quantities vast enough to arm and equip more than an army division if troops had to be airlifted in quickly.

Sealed warehouses, with interior humidity carefully maintained at 40 per cent, protect the gear from tropical rot.

The war has touched neighboring Cambodia in another way.

American officials insist North Vietnamese and Viet Cong guerrilla units fighting in South Viet Nam operate out of Cambodian refuges.

"I have seen them with my own eyes moving back into Cambodia under attack," a U.S. official said in Saigon.

American field commanders have told newsmen the Chu Pong mountain range stretching across the Viet Nam-Cambodian frontier is a Communist nest — and a route for Red infiltration.

At least three North Vietnamese regiments fighting in central Viet Nam are said to take orders from what is described as the 119th Division headquarters stationed in Cambodia.

In addition, American officials say there is no doubt the so-called Ho Chi Minh trail from North Viet Nam passes across Cambodian soil, giving Communist troops and supplies a route to battlefields in central and south Viet Nam. CAMBODIA IS INVOLVED
Cambodia's ruler, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, vociferously denies his country is either staging place or highway for Communist troops.

Sihanouk counter-charges that planes and troops based in South Viet Nam have shot up Cambodian border villages and violated Cambodian soil without provocation.

Whichever account is true, it is obvious war has visited Cambodia.

It also has again touched Laos, as proven by a recent Washington announcement that 30 U.S. military men have been killed in officially secret operations in Laos since 1961.

Most of these men reportedly were pilots, with some killed recently while bombing and strafing the Laos section of the Ho Chi Minh trail.

Unconfirmed reports in Saigon say a large part of the U.S. air effort in late July and early August was directed at Laotian sectors of the trail.

Clearly, the circle of conflict in Southeast Asia has widened.

Republicans Privately Worried by Advanced Age of Some Senators

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — A Washington acquaintance who has spent his professional lifetime as a "party" organization specialist confides that one of his most difficult problems is to persuade aging men in elective office to retire and to make way for more energetic and effective candidates.

Wyngaard

The problem is typical of political management everywhere, and especially in the politics of state legislatures. More than any of them are prepared to admit, the state Republican organization leadership today is worried about the fact that an unusual share of the party's State Senate representation consists of men of advanced years. The most prominent of these are running for re-election. Some of them are likely to have their troubles in standing up to the challenge of younger rivals in the primaries next week or the competition of Democratic nominees in November.

A hard-headed and loyal Republican reviewed the problem privately not long ago and candidly explained that it is probably insoluble.

"Who wants to tell them?" he asked. "These men have given long years of good service. They enjoy their work. I don't propose to inform them that now that they are getting old we want to dump them."

OTHERS MUST RETIRE

The idea of compulsory retirement is now universally accepted in private employment and in virtually all of the other fields of public service. Even the elective State Supreme Court is subject to a retirement rule. In the humblest ranks of the state civil service, the employee closes his desk at the age of 65 with only a few exceptions in the form of one-year extensions. In the schools, in the protective services, among the appointive officers of state boards and commissions there would be no thought of retaining in service men of the age that has been reached by a couple dozen members of the legislature, including some of the most prominent and influential men of the State Senate.

In the elective places of the state government, despite the fact that the powers and responsibilities involved are infinitely broader and more meaningful than those of the lesser civil servants, the assumption is that a man is entitled to serve as long as he can persuade the voters to re-elect him.

No one is likely to argue that there should be a top age limit for elective office. No one is likely to dispute that the arbitrary retirement of appointed public officials and employees is sometimes wasteful, denying the public the benefit of some men and women whose energies and experience could be profitably used for some additional years. Yet there is an acceptance of the general usefulness of an arbitrary civil service age limit and it is a valid conjecture that the idea of representative government will be weakened if a disproportionate number of elderly men serve in the chief elective offices.

YOUNG MEN STAYED

In the State Senate today the principal committees are dominated by men of advancing years, slowing energies, and political attitudes often out of sympathy with their partisan colleagues, and even, in some instances, with the political party with which they are nominally affiliated. There have been several instances lately of younger men voluntarily departing from the Senate because they saw no chance for advancement in rank and influence against the entrenched patriarchy.

Such matters are difficult to communicate, and that is why they are typically mentioned only in privacy. The most prominent of the Senate seniors are usually able because of long exposure in their districts and past achievements to win renomination without special effort. But as they grow older and as the partisan alignment of the state is certified by the increasing close statewide elections, there will come a time when they will be unable to wage the kind of campaign that will be required to turn back younger and more energetic Democratic nominees. In a couple of instances, that time may be this fall, as some worried Republican loyalists see it.

Military Service Is an Obligation for Citizens

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Since Elmer Hochkammer of Manitowish has been flooding state papers with bible quotations opposing force to resist force, permit me to inform him and all conscientious objectors serving in our armed force to preserve freedom, that Chapter 11 of Matthew quotes Christ saying,

"When a strong man armed, protects his court, it will remain in peace, but if a stronger than he come upon him and overcome him, he will take away all the armor in which he trusted, and will divide his spoils. He who is not with Me, is against Me."

Service to preserve freedom is as much an obligation of citizenship as paying taxes to maintain government facilities. Anyone who shirks this responsibility, who enjoys his freedom at the expense of the 25 million veterans we have had in past wars, should hide his face in shame.

Hochkammer quotes Genesis, "Who sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed." Manifestly, this means and justifies retaliation. No man worth his salt will endure use of force to rob him and his family of life or property.

Today our nation is involved in an effort to honor the commitment of Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson to assist South Viet Nam to preserve its freedom against Communist aggression. Secretary of Defense McNamara correctly states, "If we fail to meet the challenge here and now, sit idly while Communists devour another free nation, we inevitably will be forced to confront similar affairs throughout the world. To the extent that the Communist are convinced that we will resist, with force if necessary, any encroachment on our vital interests, the chances of (world) war are diminished."

Do extremists and protestors not realize that the evil hand of Red China lurks in the background, to subjugate all Southeast Asia and Indonesia, if the current Communist aggression succeeds? It would give the Communists control of the Malacca Straits through which 98 per cent of the commerce of the Orient passes, with consequent stranglehold on the Philippines, Formosa and Japan and with threats to the freedom of India. Here is a conclusive test between freedom and Communist enslavement. Courage, responsibility, not spineless evasion or cowardice are called for. This nation will not desert its obligations or its principles.

Friend Ross: With the hope of getting up to Outagamie County reasonably soon, I will give you some notions pervading the southern portions of the Fifth Congressional District. And this is to renominate Hon. P. Sawyer.

He is esteemed a good, practical and reliable man, and citizen. He is one who can be depended upon in business and as a representative of the people that vote for him. This is an essential element in a representative man.

He has proved up thoroughly and shown himself fit to be trusted, which is no small consideration in such a time as this.

Bulldogs Trample Manawa '11', 32-0

Yaeger Scores Three Touchdowns As New London Wins Easily

BY ROGER PITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEW LONDON — Manawa fumbled on its first play from scrimmage and never recovered as they bowed 32-0 to a powerful New London High School '11' here Friday in a game played 'partially' under the lights.

The Hatten Park stadium lights on the west side of the field blew out just as play was about to start and were unable to be repaired. The dark was a perfect setting for the massacre of the Central Wisconsin Wolves.

Coach Larry Graves substituted freely following the Bulldogs first touchdown, a 31-yard aerial from Greg Wing to Bruce Feurig on the first play from scrimmage. Pete Philippe set up the initial score with a recovery on the opening kickoff at the Manawa 31-yard stripe.

Rusty Yeager tallied three times on runs of 24, 65 and 91 yards. Yeager's final TD came after the Bulldogs reserves were unable to move the ball in the third and fourth periods. With their backs against the wall, and the Wolves knocking on the door, Yeager took the first play from scrimmage and roared down the east sideline outdistancing any pursuers.

Feurig accounted for the second TD of the game in the first period snaring a 24-yard Wing aerial and then crashing into the goal post. The force of the speeding end knocked the upright off the post and led to a possible missed extra point by John Brown. Brown kicked 2 of 5 extra points and missed a 33-yard field goal by inches.

As impressive as the Bulldog offense was (the 32 points were the most ever scored during the three years of Graves tenure as head coach), the defense stood out even more brilliantly.

Spearheaded by the opening kickoff recovery, the Bulldogs allowed a total of 34 yards during the game and gave up four first downs.

Reserves Shuttle
Turning in impressive efforts on defense were Dan Cartwright at end, Lee Manske at tackle, Fred Wienandt and Bill Rieckmann and Mike Marasch. Reserves shuttled in and out of the game and each turned in a stellar effort.

Gary Slosarek picked off an errant Randy Behnke aerial and returned it 70 yards for a touchdown, which was called back to the 45-yard line of Manawa because of a clipping penalty. Two other New London scores were also called back because of penalties.

Vikings Open Defense Of Co-Title, Stop Winneconne, 12 to 0

DENMARK — Denmark opened defense of its Little Nine Conference co-championship on a successful note here Friday night, scoring touchdowns in the second and fourth stanzas en route to a 12-0 conquest of highly touted Winneconne.

After a scoreless first period, the Vikings drove 50 yards for their initial counter. Marty Schweiner's 1-yard plunge got the Danes on the scoreboard.

Denmark's ground game, which clicked for 142 yards in the contest, came to the fore again in the third segment.

Pat Hickey culminated a 50-yard drive, skirting the final 13 yards for the tally.

The Wolves, long co-favorites, never got their offense in high gear and finished with a mere 40 yards on the ground and an equal amount via the air.

The Vikings netted 10 first downs, while Winneconne could muster only two.

SHIOCTON — A stingy and tough Hilbert defense allowed Shiocton a mere 36 net yards while keeping the Chiefs in the hole all night in recording a 14-0 triumph here Friday.

Shiocton never got beyond the Wolves' 45 and were saved from any further disaster as two Hilbert drives were stopped on the 10 and 15-yard lines.

Dave Mueller accounted for both Hilbert tallies, one on a 2-yard smash to cap a 35-yard drive in the first quarter and the other a 28-yard pass from Harlan Hackbart in the third period.

Mueller finished with 47 yards in 15 carries while teammate Stuart Duchow added 65 in 18 attempts.

Pirates and Dodgers Win

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

School is still out for Ken Holtzman, but he heads the dean's list at Durocher Tech.

Holtzman, 20-year-old student-prince of Leo Durocher's Chicago pitching staff, picked up another summer credit Friday night by blanking San Francisco for 7 2-3 innings as the last-place Cubs ambushed Juan Marichal and the Giants 6-0.

It was the ninth victory — high among Cub pitchers — for the rookie lefthander, who began the season as a full-time scholar and will return to the University of Illinois at Chicago later this month to begin his senior year.

Until mid-June Holtzman, a $65,000 bonus baby, was a once-a-week pitcher while concentrating on his studies. He beat Los Angeles 2-0 for his first decision in the majors but had won only three games when the school year ended. He's made the most of his summer vacation, however, winning four of his last five decisions for an overall mark of 9-13.

Quite Something
"I used to have him only on weekends — Friday, Saturday and Sunday," said Manager Durocher. "I'm happy to have him any time. He's quite something. He's a fine looking young lefthander who really brings the ball."

Holtzman stopped the Giants on two hits for seven innings while nursing a 1-0 lead. The Cubs gave him a two-run cushion in the eighth, but he needed relief help with two out in the bottom of the inning when the Giants loaded the bases on a single and two walks.

Bill Hands, an ex-Giant, came out of the bullpen, struck out Jim Ray Hart to end the eighth-inning threat and completed the four-hitter, pinning the loss on Marichal, now 21-6.

The Giants' loss dropped them into third place in the tight National League race, two percentage points behind the Dodgers and 1½ games behind league-leading Pittsburgh. The Dodgers blanked Houston 7-0 on Claude Osteen's three-hitter and the Pirates edged St. Louis 3-2 on Bill Mazeroski's bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the 12th inning.

The surging Atlanta Braves trimmed New York 8-3 for their ninth victory in the last 10 games and Philadelphia downed Cincinnati 7-6 in other NL games.

George Altman singled off Marichal in the fifth inning, stole second and scored the first Cub run on a single by Adolfo Phillips. San Francisco errors helped the Cubs push over five unearned runs in the last two innings, wrapping it up.

Osteen, pitching his first complete game since July 6, scattered three singles and brought his record to 15-11 while the Dodgers punished four Houston hurlers for 14 hits, including five doubles. Successive two-baggers by Wes Parker, Willie Davis and Ron Fairly delivered two runs in the third, giving Osteen all the help he required.

Fly to Center
The Pirates loaded the bases in the 12th on Matty Alou's single, a sacrifice, an intentional walk to Roberto Clemente — who had stroked four hits — and an unintentional pass to pinch hitter Manny Mota. Mazeroski then came through with his fly to center, breaking the 2-2 deadlock.

Rico Carty lashed four hits,

Halfback Jim Anderson was the big gun as Green Bay smothered Green Bay Southwest 44-13. A former quarterback, Anderson scored four touchdowns on runs of 31, 15 and 54 yards and on a six-yard pass reception. He also scored an extra point on a pass and wound up by gaining 153 yards on 14 carries.

West also counted when Dennis Gutzman intercepted a pass and ran it back 67 yards.

Mickey White of Stevens Point scored four times in a 38-18 triumph over Waupaca. Hig tallies came on runs of 49, four and two yards and on a pass-run of 18. A junior, White gained 254 yards in 30 carries and wound up the night with a yardage total of 451.

Key Game
Fond du Lac scored in the final 12 seconds to gain a 6-6 tie with Green Bay East in a key game opening the Fox River Valley Conference.

Cornell, nominated the likely Covelbert Western Conference leader this year in a pre-season poll of coaches, was dumped by Stanley 27-6 as Ken Roberts led the winners with 141 yards rushing.

Milton Union, No. 8 in the small school poll last year, continued to show power with a 25-7 victory over Oregon.

Waterloo continued to impress as it defeated DeForest 20-13. Waterloo displayed its class last week by downing Randolph, the 1965 top small school team.

Holtzman stopped the Giants on two hits for seven innings while nursing a 1-0 lead. The Cubs gave him a two-run cushion in the eighth, but he needed relief help with two out in the bottom of the inning when the Giants loaded the bases on a single and two walks.

Bill Hands, an ex-Giant, came out of the bullpen, struck out Jim Ray Hart to end the eighth-inning threat and completed the four-hitter, pinning the loss on Marichal, now 21-6.

The Giants' loss dropped them into third place in the tight National League race, two percentage points behind the Dodgers and 1½ games behind league-leading Pittsburgh. The Dodgers blanked Houston 7-0 on Claude Osteen's three-hitter and the Pirates edged St. Louis 3-2 on Bill Mazeroski's bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the 12th inning.

The surging Atlanta Braves trimmed New York 8-3 for their ninth victory in the last 10 games and Philadelphia downed Cincinnati 7-6 in other NL games.

George Altman singled off Marichal in the fifth inning, stole second and scored the first Cub run on a single by Adolfo Phillips. San Francisco errors helped the Cubs push over five unearned runs in the last two innings, wrapping it up.

Osteen, pitching his first complete game since July 6, scattered three singles and brought his record to 15-11 while the Dodgers punished four Houston hurlers for 14 hits, including five doubles. Successive two-baggers by Wes Parker, Willie Davis and Ron Fairly delivered two runs in the third, giving Osteen all the help he required.

Fly to Center
The Pirates loaded the bases in the 12th on Matty Alou's single, a sacrifice, an intentional walk to Roberto Clemente — who had stroked four hits — and an unintentional pass to pinch hitter Manny Mota. Mazeroski then came through with his fly to center, breaking the 2-2 deadlock.

Rico Carty lashed four hits,

Halfback Jim Anderson was the big gun as Green Bay smothered Green Bay Southwest 44-13. A former quarterback, Anderson scored four touchdowns on runs of 31, 15 and 54 yards and on a six-yard pass reception. He also scored an extra point on a pass and wound up by gaining 153 yards on 14 carries.

West also counted when Dennis Gutzman intercepted a pass and ran it back 67 yards.

Mickey White of Stevens Point scored four times in a 38-18 triumph over Waupaca. Hig tallies came on runs of 49, four and two yards and on a pass-run of 18. A junior, White gained 254 yards in 30 carries and wound up the night with a yardage total of 451.

Key Game
Fond du Lac scored in the final 12 seconds to gain a 6-6 tie with Green Bay East in a key game opening the Fox River Valley Conference.

Cornell, nominated the likely Covelbert Western Conference leader this year in a pre-season poll of coaches, was dumped by Stanley 27-6 as Ken Roberts led the winners with 141 yards rushing.

Milton Union, No. 8 in the small school poll last year, continued to show power with a 25-7 victory over Oregon.

Waterloo continued to impress as it defeated DeForest 20-13. Waterloo displayed its class last week by downing Randolph, the 1965 top small school team.

Milwaukee Don Bosco, seven-times on runs of 24, 65 and 91 yards. Yeager's final TD came after the Bulldogs reserves were unable to move the ball in the third and fourth periods. With their backs against the wall, and the Wolves knocking on the door, Yeager took the first play from scrimmage and roared down the east sideline outdistancing any pursuers.

Feurig accounted for the second TD of the game in the first period snaring a 24-yard Wing aerial and then crashing into the goal post. The force of the speeding end knocked the upright off the post and led to a possible missed extra point by John Brown. Brown kicked 2 of 5 extra points and missed a 33-yard field goal by inches.

As impressive as the Bulldog offense was (the 32 points were the most ever scored during the three years of Graves tenure as head coach), the defense stood out even more brilliantly.

Spearheaded by the opening kickoff recovery, the Bulldogs allowed a total of 34 yards during the game and gave up four first downs.

Reserves Shuttle
Turning in impressive efforts on defense were Dan Cartwright at end, Lee Manske at tackle, Fred Wienandt and Bill Rieckmann and Mike Marasch. Reserves shuttled in and out of the game and each turned in a stellar effort.

Gary Slosarek picked off an errant Randy Behnke aerial and returned it 70 yards for a touchdown, which was called back to the 45-yard line of Manawa because of a clipping penalty. Two other New London scores were also called back because of penalties.

Score by quarters:

New London 12 13 7 0—32

Bays, Colts Set for Clash

MILWAUKEE — Gather around, your armchair quarterbacks, and let's figure out how the Packers can best the Colts in County Stadium tonight.

First off, it must be reminded that Coach Vince Lombardi operates on the theory that "you do what you do best."

Quick now, what do the Packers do best?

The defense, the daylight out of their opponents and they run the ball.

Tight Defense

It follows that all you quarterbacks will call for (1) a tight defense and (2) some murderous running by Jim Taylor, Paul Hornung and possibly Elijah Pitts and those rookie surprises, Jim Grabowski and Donny Anderson.

These approaches are basic, of course, for the Lombardians but there is a slight precedent in the two Packer-Colt league games last year; the Packers ran off twice as many rushing plays as they did passes in winning 20-17 in County Stadium and 42-27 in Baltimore. In each case they got good defensive results despite the Colt 27 in the second game.

The Packers rushed 73 times and threw only 35 passes in the two games. In the Packer-Colt playoff, Green Bay had 39 rushes and 23 passes.

Touchdown Authority

Though the passing of Bart Starr carries plenty of touchdown authority, the key to tonight's crash might well be the Packers' success on the ground. If Taylor and Hornung can gain consistently, the Packers will be able to maintain ball control and thus keep it away from John Unitas and remove some of the pressure from the defense.

The experts, however, apparently aren't sold on the Packers since the Colts go into action as a slight favorite.

A live audience of more than 47,000 will view the colossal collision — not to mention a nationwide audience of millions via television. Kickoff is set for 8:36, though the actual program will start at 8:30 p.m.

Tonight's game marks the opening of the NFL's 45th season and the Packers' record ninth defense of a championship.

The Packers look the law of averages smack in the face tonight since they'll be going for a fourth straight victory over the Colts. Green Bay won three over Baltimore in 1965 and needless to say the Colts will have all three losses in mind when they explode tonight.

The Packers will be handicapped by injuries to three veterans: two of whom probably would have started. They are center Ken Bowman, tight end Bill Anderson and offensive end Bob Long. Bowman and Anderson figured to start but Bill Curry probably will open at center and Marv Fleming at tight end. Both could play but they wouldn't be at peak efficiency.

All three were moving well during an enthusiastic drill at County Stadium Friday afternoon. One thing, incidentally, was noticeable during the workout: the Packers were quite loose and relaxed — a good sign. If fact, some of the boys had a lively volleyball (with a football) game going in the brief period before the drill.

And everybody had a good laugh, including Lee Roy Caffey, who went deep for a pass and got hit in the head with the ball. Somebody yelled "two bits" when the pass nailed big Lee Roy.

St. John Surprises Kimberly By Recording 12-0 Triumph

Ripp Makes Successful Debut As Head Mentor of Dutchmen

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

KIMBERLY — A hard-charging Little Chute St. John football team surprised a hefty Kimberly unit by taking a 12-0 victory here Friday night in the non-conference season opener for both squads.

The win made the debut of new St. John coach, Avitus Ripp a success before an overflow crowd. It was the second year in a row the Dutchmen have held the Papermakers scoreless and the seventh victory over Kimberly in the last 10 meetings for the Chuters.

The fired-up St. John unit beat the Papermakers to the punch repeatedly as they out-charged the big Kimberly line and opened holes for runners. St. John picked up 147 yards on the ground and added 97 through the air for a total of 244 yards compared to 125 for Kimberly.

5 of 11 Passes

Quarterback Lee Weyenberg connected on five of his 11 pass attempts while his replacement Don Loe hit one of two. In addition, several other aerials, which were right in receiver's hands, were dropped.

The Chuters scored in the first period when fullback Joe Draheim electrified the crowd with a sparkling 84-yard run and added another touchdown in the second quarter when halfback "Oscar" Schuler chugged over from the 3. After the first touchdown the extra point try was wide and the second one was blocked.

The 12-0 score indicates a relatively close game, but the Chuters completely dominated play. Three other excellent scoring opportunities were "blown" by the Dutchmen, two on fumbles and one on a dropped pass.

Rooters for the Dutchmen nearly had heart failure on the second play from scrimmage as St. John took over after a Kimberly punt. Quarterback Weyenberg dropped back to

Wardens May Arrest Agents

State Won't Allow Harassment of Geese at Horicon

HUDSON (AP) — Wisconsin wardens will be ordered to arrest federal game agents who try to chase Canadian geese from the Horicon Marsh area, James Smaby, chairman of the state Conservation Commission said Friday.

"We have some laws," said Smaby. "Harassment of waterfowl is prohibited, and if federal wardens start it, I'll instruct our department to act. This is no gimmick."

His statement was greeted with enthusiasm by the other commissioners at the group's meeting.

The federal Bureau of Sports and Fisheries has announced plans to harass the huge Horicon goose flock with planes and boats in an effort to speed back "Oscar" Schuler chugged over from the 3. After the first touchdown the extra point try was wide and the second one was blocked.

The 12-0 score indicates a relatively close game, but the Chuters completely dominated play. Three other excellent scoring opportunities were "blown" by the Dutchmen, two

Badgers Lose Gary Bendor

Defensive Back Inducted; UW Ends Twice-a-Day Drills

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin's football plans were jolted Friday with the announcement that Gary Bendor, a fleet halfback who was expected to help bolster the Badgers' rebuilt defensive secondary, had been inducted into the Army.

The loss was another blow to hopes of Coach Milt Bruhn to come back from last year's dismal campaign.

Bendor, from Thorp caught ten passes last year when he was a sophomore flanker. He was moved to the defensive back field this year to make use of his speed and experience in the secondary.

He has been replaced by Walt Ridlon, a transfer from Palomar Junior College in California.

Ridlon joins sophomores Gary Reineck of Rochelle, Ill., and Mike Cavill of Marinette and junior Dave Berg in the secondary.

The Badgers closed out their brilliant day with a 15-minute goal line scrimmage. Sophomore quarterback John Ryan scintillated with his passing and running. Most of his tosses went to sophomore flanker Tom McCauley.

Wayne Todd, sophomore fullback, was effective in picking up yardage from in close.

Wisconsin opens its season next Saturday against Iowa State at Camp Randall Stadium.

Jets Jet Back After Plane Engine Trouble

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A four-engine airplane taking the New York Jets home after their 19-14 victory over Miami turned back early today when the pilot noticed trouble with one engine 19 minutes after takeoff.

The United Airlines charter plane landed at Miami Airport without mishap. The American Football League team then embarked on another aircraft.

82-Yard Punt Return Gives 'Wega Win Over Zephyrs

Indians Post 13-12 Victory; Miller Scores

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

WEYAUWEGA — Speedy Gerry Miller raced 82 yards with a punt for a touchdown with 4½ minutes left to play and then carried over the tie-breaking extra point, giving Weyauwega a 13-12 win over Menasha St. Mary Friday night.

The triumph was the second straight achieved in the final minutes by the Indians while the setback squared the Zephyrs' record at 1-1.

Miller's long dash offset a brilliant bit of running by St. Mary fullback Jim Jensen, who gained 152 yards in 19 carries, including 110 in the first half. He was injured on Miller's run and was out of action as the Zephyrs' made a futile bid to score again.

Led by Jensen, the Menashas compiled a big statistical edge, 216 to 79 yards rushing and 253 to 129 running and passing, but they were forced to grind out their touchdowns while the hosts struck quickly.

St. Mary went 80 yards in eight plays late in the first period to grab a 6-0 lead. Key play was a 62-yard run to the Weyauwega three by Jensen. Jim Simon carried to the one and quarterback Mike Heroux sneaked over from there.

Kick Attempt Wide

Bill Heimerman's place kick attempt for the extra point was wide.

"Wega launched its first half touchdown drive with two minutes to play by recovering a fumble on its 40.

A run and Tim Nolan's six-yard pass to Dick Raister produced a first down on the St. Mary 47. Miller and Nolan gained six yards in two plays but the Zephyrs were assessed a

10th Straight Triumph

Xavier Notches 15-7 Victory Over Hodags

RHINELANDER — After a scoreless first half, Appleton Xavier put together two touchdowns and a field goal to post a 15-7 victory over Rhinelander High School in a non-conference tilt here Friday night.

The victory was the second straight this season for the Hawks who open the Fox Valley Catholic Conference season against Lourdes, Oshkosh, next Saturday.

Xavier took the second half kickoff last night and marched 71 yards in six plays to score. Brad Graff and John Wenning alternated at carrying the ball and Graff supplied the clincher as he went the last 32 yards to score on an end scamper. The extra point try was no good.

10th Straight

The victory was the 10th straight over two seasons for the Hawks.

Brad Graff, filling in for his brother Terry who was injured in the game, gained 58 yards in 11 rushing attempts. Terry carried up 43 yards in eight carries before leaving the game with a knee injury.

Near the end of the third period, the Hawks took over on the Rhinelander 28 after a short punt. Xavier moved to the Hodag 11 and from that point Lambert Gietman booted a field goal on fourth down.

With about five minutes left in the game, Xavier took over on the Rhinelander 41 after a pass interception. In nine plays the Hawks scored again with Jerry Rankin going over from the three. The extra point try was blocked.

The lone Rhinelander score came late in the game when quarterback Bob Gironomi hit Mike Schultz with a 19-yard pass.

Merrill '11' Wins Over Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — A potent Merrill passing attack proved too much for Clintonville's Trunkers here Friday night, as the Wisconsin Valley Conference member rolled to an easy 21-6 verdict in a non-conference tussle.

The Bluejays coined two tallies via the airways, one a 71-yard play, and added another on the ground before the Mid-Eastern Conference entry finally netted its only tally late in the third period.

Quarterback Geron Dieck set up the lone 6-point after rambling 49 yards deep into Merrill territory. Moments later, Chuck Berg spurred four yards for the TD.

Each squad garnered 10 first downs, but the Bluejays dominated the over-all picture with a 312-230 net yardage edge.

Bob Kelley, Radio Voice of LA Rams For 29 Years, Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sportscaster Bob Kelley, the radio voice of the Los Angeles Rams for 29 years, died Friday in St. Joseph Hospital in suburban Burbank. He was 49.

Death was attributed to heart disease.

Kelley, born in Kalamazoo, Mich., started with the old Cleveland Rams in 1937, serving as the team's broadcaster and secretary, and came to Los Angeles when the franchise was moved in 1946.

Rockets Give Impressive Performance

Neenah Downs Monona Grove, 19-13

MONONA GROVE — Neenah's Rockets gave advance warning as to who the team will be to beat in the Mid-Eastern Conference this year as they stopped a strong Monona Grove unit, 19-13, in a non-conference encounter here Friday night.

The defending M-E titlists tallied single touchdowns in the each of the first three periods and were stopped short three times in the final stanza in recording the victory over the Silver Eagles, the '65 Badger Conference Champions. The loss also halted Monona Grove's win streak at seven games as the Eagles had not lost since their opener to Greenfield last year.

The winners grabbed a 13-0 advantage before Monona Grove ever got on the scoreboard.

With 39 seconds left in the initial period, Dan Meyer capped a 7-yard, 12-play drive with a 3-yard run. Neenah quarterback Gary Losse had three of his five completions on the drive, good for 26 yards, while the big bainer was a 13-yard run by Tom Gahuber.

Following a Monona Grove punt and a penalty, Neenah gained possession on the Eagles 46 in the second quarter.

In six plays the Rockets had moved the entire distance for another tally. Backhouser carried the ball on a 6-yard end run for the score. Dan Jankowski's PAT kick was good. Meyer did the hard work in the series as he carried three times for 10, 15 and seven yards.

The clock showed 2:05 remaining in the half when the Eagles hit the scoreboard on a 59-yard punt return by Bob Noll. A missed extra point made the score 13-6 at halftime.

The first series in the second half saw Monona Grove punting from deep in its own territory. Tom Wisner grabbed the punt and returned it for a TD. However the runback was nullified by a penalty, but this did not stop Wisner who took a 28-yard pass from Losse six plays later for the score.

Following the ensuing kickoff, the losers marched 70 yards for their only "earned" touchdown, which came on a quarterback sneak by Jerry Hildendorf from the one.

NHS was thwarted three times in the final period on interceptions and a fumble after penetrating to the Eagles' 28, 19 and 17 yard lines.

Monona Grove's Mick McCarty was the standout in the game despite finishing on the losing end as he picked up 115 yards in 23 carries.

Kavanaugh Scores 3 Touchdowns

Post-Crescent News Service

DEPERE — Costly mistakes and a sporadic offense spelled disaster for Abbot Pennings at Minahan Stadium Friday night as the Kaukauna Ghosts toppled the Squires, 19-0, in a non-conference grid opener for both schools.

Pennings, which was beaten by the exact score in Kaukauna just one year ago, lost the ball twice on fumbles, three times on pass interceptions and had two punts blocked, one which resulted in the Ghosts final TD as Pat Kavanaugh gobbled it up and fell into the end zone in the last period.

Kavanaugh was the hero for the Ghosts as he scored all three Kaukauna touchdowns. The first two came on passes, a 32-yarder and an eight-yarder both from John Van DeHey, in the final two minutes of the first half.

Picks Off 6 Passes

In all, Kavanaugh picked off six passes from Van DeHey for 92 yards. Van DeHey connected on nine of 17 tosses for 111 yards and ran for 17 more in three attempts.

In addition to the Squire errors, the Pennings eleven could not mount a ground attack and managed only six first downs, two of which were by penalties. The Squires managed only 46 yards on the ground compared to 53 in the air.

Squire quarterback John Koop, who assumed the signal calling duties just five days ago forcing him to utilize a limited number of plays, completed two of nine attempts one being a 46-yard strike to Bob Klusmeyer. Koop had two intercepted while his relief in the second half, John Merline had his only pass attempt picked off.

Defensive Battle

Throughout the first 16 minutes of action the game was a defensive battle with neither team going anywhere. With four minutes remaining to the half the Squires fumbled on their own 19 and Kaukauna took over and drove to the one-yard line before losing the ball on downs. Pennings took over inside the one and decided to punt out of trouble. Jeff Williamson's punt went out of bounds on the

Unique $1.8 Million Tennis Stadium to be Built at UW

MADISON (AP) — Preliminary plans for a unique $1.8 million tennis stadium, named in honor of a television rating executive, were approved Friday by the University of Wisconsin board of regents.

The covered stadium, which will house 10 tennis courts, six squash courts and galleries for 600 spectators, is scheduled for completion on the West end of the Madison campus by March 1968.

Arthur C. Nielsen Sr. of Winnetka, Ill., a 1918 UW graduate and chairman of the marketing research firm that bears his name, donated all but $250,000 of the funds for the facility. That amount will be provided by the state.

Nielsen was tennis captain of the UW team in 1918, and his son captained the 1941 squad. Varsity team members, students, faculty and staff will be able to use the Nielsen Stadium, which can be expanded to 20 tennis courts and 18 squash courts.

Planners have called the proposed tennis palace, which emphasizes the best lighting and ventilation available, as one of the finest of its kind in the country.

PATRICK LUCEY, Democratic candidate for governor, stated that "Wisconsin's state government is a tangled maze of departments, agencies, boards and commissions which leads to confusion and to increased costs. "Only vigorous executive leadership can cut through this mess and trim the fat and waste," Lucey said. He called for adoption of a program similar to the "Little Hoover Commissions" of other states, which attack "horse and buggy" government. ## Jets Launch Season With 19-14 Victory

Dolphins Throw Unexpected Score Into New York '11'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The New York Jets launched their American Football League season with a 19-14 defeat of the Miami Dolphins, and Joe Namath may have won back his starting job at quarterback.

But the Friday night decision over the Dolphins, brand new members of the league and decided underdogs, was so close it may have left everything up in the air for Jet Coach Weeb Ewbank.

Mike Taliaferro, who led the Jets to four straight exhibition victories after the $400,000 Namath injured his trick knee, was handled roughly by the Dolphins. He completed only four of 17 passes in the first half, one for a touchdown.

Namath fared better, hitting eight of 18 shots in the second half, but was victimized by a fourth-period Miami rally led by another expensive quarterback, $300,000 rookie Rick Norton of Kentucky.

43-Yard Pass

Norton threw a 43-yard touchdown pass that bounced off the hands of Bo Roberson into those of Dave Kocorek when New York was coasting with a 19-0 lead.

Then Pete Jaques, just picked up by the Dolphins from San Diego, stole a Namath aerial and raced 27 yards for a score that had the Jets fighting for their lives at the end.

The game was the second in which the Dolphins have surprised the veteran AFL teams. Last week, they threw a scare into the Oakland Raiders before losing 23-14.

In other weekend AFL games, Oakland plays at Houston and Boston at San Diego Saturday night and Kansas City plays at Buffalo Sunday in a televised game.

New York took an early 2-0 lead over Miami when Verlon Biggs dumped Norton in his end zone. The Jets made it 9-0 when Taliaferro hit George Sauer with a 20-yard scoring pass.

The Jets' John Sample intercepted two Dick Wood passes in Miami territory in the third period. After the first theft, Namath took the Jets in to a score on a four-yard run by Bill Mathis. After the second, Jim Turner booted a field goal.

Both Drivers Negligent, Jury Ruling Says

$5,000 Personal Injuries Award to Driver's Mother

A 12-member Outagamie County Court jury late Thursday afternoon found both drivers involved in an accident near Darboy March 30, 1963 guilty of negligence in the operation of their vehicles.

Mrs. Kathleen Lom Palm, 22, route 4, Appleton, driver of one car and one of three plaintiffs in a damage suit, was found 15 per cent negligent while Robert Granger of Kaukauna, driver of the second vehicle, was 85 per cent negligent, according to the jury verdict.

Testimony in the case lasted three days in Outagamie County Court Branch 3 before Judge Raymond P. Dohr.

$75,000 Sought
The action, in which $75,000 in damage was sought, was brought against Granger and his insurance carrier, Great Lakes Mutual Insurance Co., by Mrs. Palm and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lom, 214 Kamps Ave., Kimberly. The General Casualty Co. of Wisconsin was an impleaded defendant.

Attorneys for Mrs. Lom contended the Kimberly woman received permanent injuries in the mid-afternoon accident at County Trunks KK and N.

Mrs. Lom was a passenger in a car driven by her daughter and owned by her husband. Mrs. Palm had just pulled away from a stop sign when her vehicle was struck from behind by the Granger car.

$5,000 For Injuries
The jury ruled that Mrs. Lom should receive $5,000 for personal injuries and that her daughter, Mrs. Palm, should receive $350 for personal injuries and $100 for medical expenses. The court decided that Mrs. Palm was entitled to $12 for loss of wages.

Mrs. Lom reportedly received head, knee, chest, rib and neck injuries, while her daughter's injuries included leg cuts.

The jury verdict stated that Alfred Lom should receive $465 for hospital and medical expenses for his wife, $2,500 for the loss of his wife's companionship, and $2,730 for the loss of her household services.

The court found he was entitled to $289 for damage to his 1956-model car.

Question Suspect in Burglaries

Appleton police are holding a 49-year-old Massachusetts man in connection with at least two house burglaries this week.

The man, who said he has spent several nights sleeping on park benches, was taken into custody in downtown Appleton about 12:30 Friday after a resident notified police he had just seen the man who entered his home Wednesday night.

The northside resident who tipped off Appleton police, said he found the 49-year-old man in his home about 10 p.m. Wednesday after hearing a noise in the kitchen. A wallet containing $10 later was discovered missing from the home.

The Massachusetts man also is being questioned in connection with the earlier theft of $70 from another northside Appleton home.

Mayor Buckley Against Special City Auto Tax

Claims League Proposal Vague, State's Portion Would Make Returns Insignificant

Appleton Mayor George Buckley didn't think much of a League of Wisconsin Municipalities request that the state legislature consider a local automobile tax system.

The League, which represents most of the cities and villages in the state, advocated the special tax in its September publication distributed statewide today.

It said the money would help municipalities handle an anticipated revenue deficit.

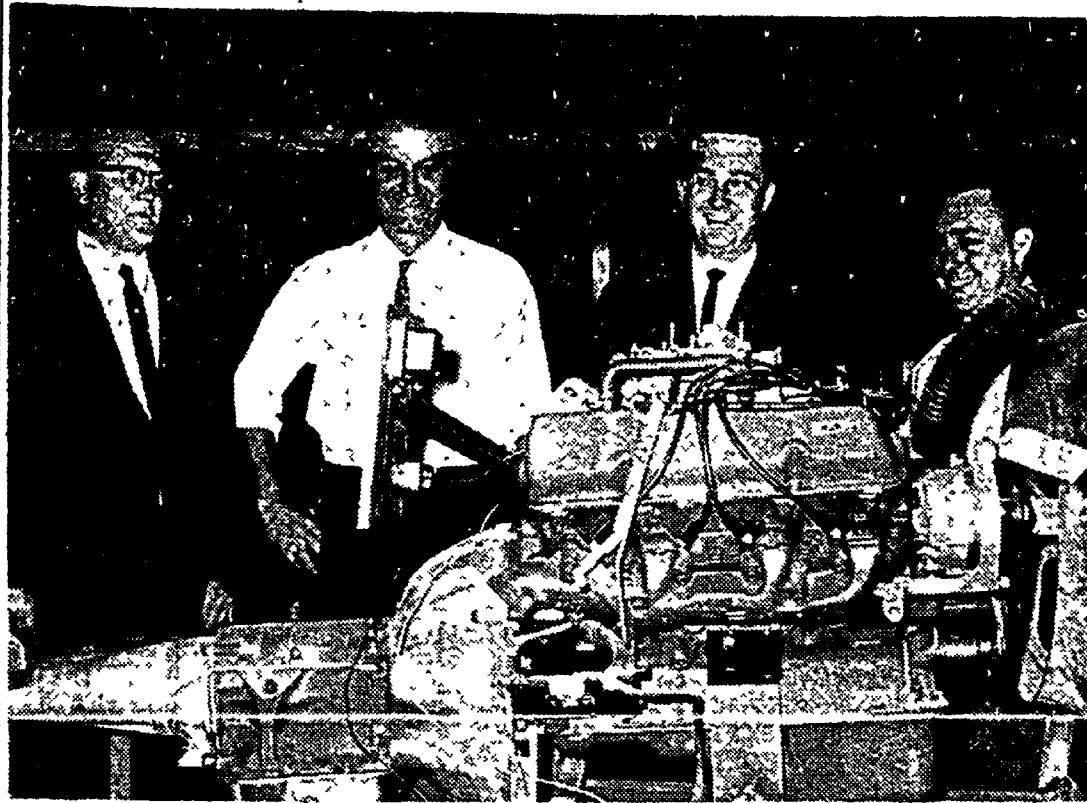

Wisconsin vehicles, especially automobiles, are still among the lowest taxed in the nation, the League said. A car license now costs $18 a year, up $2 from last year.

Police Estimate
City police estimated there are about 22,500 registered cars and trucks in Appleton.

"To tell you the truth, I don't think such a tax would really be worthwhile when you think about it a bit," Buckley commented.

It was his opinion the suggestion of the League was "too vague."

Buckley felt that by the time the city received its share of the automobile taxes collected, the amount of revenue would

Land Use, Courthouse Are Topics for Outagamie Board

Public Property Committee Seeks Approval of $525,000 Expansion

Pollution, zoning, courthouse remodeling, land leasing and park regulations are among the many topics comprising what promises to be a busy September session of the Outagamie County Board.

Because the primary election is Tuesday, the board meeting was moved ahead one day. There is a possibility the September session may last two days, in which case the second meeting day would be Wednesday.

One of the major items on the agenda is a proposal from the board's public property committee to add a $525,000, three-wing addition to the courthouse.

The proposal, one of several involving courthouse revamp in recent years, would allow for expansion of court facilities, clerk of courts quarters, the county extension office, jail, and the highway department. The addition would be constructed on the east side of the courthouse.

Officials of the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission will seek board approval and money for two measures, one involving water and sewer planning for small communities, and the other concerning a uniform county zoning ordinance.

Supervisors will be asked to authorize the Wolf River unit to act in behalf of the county in undertaking preparation of a comprehensive area plans for water and sewer systems in communities showing such a need.

An appropriation of $16,092.53 is sought from the county to help cover the cost of preparing such plans, according to a provision contained in a resolution that will come before supervisors Monday.

Officials of the Wolf River unit point out that under a 1961 measure, the Farm Home Administration (FHA) may offer financial assistance to communities of 5,500 population or less for improvement of sewer and water facilities.

Area Plan
Development of a comprehensive area plan for the communities would preclude granting of funds under the FHA program, supervisors will be told.

The Wolf River planning unit recently was designated as the agent for FHA water and sewer programs for small area communities.

Supervisors also will be asked to appropriate $3,000 to help the Wolf River commission and other agencies establish a uniform county zoning ordinance.

A regional land use planning and zoning program would implement the Wolf River Basin Comprehensive (master) Plan and a zoning program for Outagamie County would tie in with similar plans for other counties included within the Wolf Basin, according to information contained in a resolution to be presented Monday.

Lease Proposal
The public property committee will ask the county board to take action on a lease proposal.

School Enrollment Increases Total 639

Larger Student Population Due Primarily to Public Schools

Appleton's 33 public and parochial schools have listed enrollments totaling 18,179, an increase of 639 from last year's figure after the first week of classes.

Included are one public, one Catholic and one Lutheran high school, four public junior high schools and 16 public, seven Catholic and three Lutheran elementary schools.

The increase is due largely to public school enrollments, as most Catholic and Lutheran elementary schools showed decreases.

Sacred Heart has an enrollment of 668, a decrease of 58; St. Joseph has 825, a drop of 79; St. Mary has remained at about 650; St. Pius has 794, a drop of six; St. Therese, 721, a drop of nine.

Two Show Hikes
The only two Catholic grade schools with increased enrollments are St. Bernadette, with 502, an increase of 24, and St. Thomas More, 353, an increase of 20.

Of the three Lutheran grade schools, St. Paul dropped 12 to 306 and Zion 10 to 58. St. Matthew School enrollment increased 13 to 165.

Both Xavier Catholic and Fox Valley Lutheran high school enrollments increased considerably. Xavier, with 1,332 pupils, increased by 45 and FVL with 440 pupils, increased by 46.

Increase By 638
All three public school levels increased enrollments, the total being 11,358, up 638.

On the elementary level, 314 more children are enrolled in the 16 schools, raising the total to 6,626. On the junior high level, 123 more pupils increases the total to 2,350; and on the senior high level, 201 more students had to be absorbed by the already overcrowded high school, bringing the total to 2,382 and necessitating the three-shift school day.

With the opening of the new Appleton High School East in 1967, the high school conditions should be brought back to normal, with about 1,600 in each school.

Cash Register Found in Ditch

Outagamie County authorities this morning were continuing investigation into circumstances surrounding the dumping of a cash register into a ditch along State 55 a mile north of U.S. 41.

The register was picked out of the ditch this morning by county police after four persons reported spotting the machine. The first report was received about 6:50 a.m.

Police had received no report of a burglary or a cash register theft.

Absentee Voting to Be Accepted Monday

KAUKAUNA — Persons unable to vote in Tuesday's primary election may cast an absentee ballot in person at the city clerk's office up to 5 p.m. Monday, according to Karl E. Marzahl, city clerk.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday with first and second ward voters casting ballots at Park School while third, fourth and fifth ward residents will vote at Nicolet School.

Aid Yale Observatory

Club Records Moon Data

The Milwaukee Astronomical Society joined with the Carl Elias Astronomical Society of Appleton at 2:21 a.m. today to observe and record a grazing occultation of the moon and star.

The event took place at the intersection of Wolf Road and Twelve Corners Road southeast of Black Creek. The group met at the request of David Dunham, Yale University Observatory. Dunham picked the location as the only place in the world from which the observation could be made. All data acquired is being sent to Yale and the results are used to compute a more accurate path of the moon through the heavens. Chart Course

Telescopes were stationed every tenth of a mile along a two-mile long cable. Each watcher transmitted electronic signals to a recording device by using a radio and a hand pressure switch.

The telescopes moved with the moon across the sky, and reports were made as the mountains of the moon were silhouetted on the star. When this happened the star blinked its appearance and disappearance and the individual circuits were made and broken. The blinking effect produced is the

He began his speaking engagements as a consultant in the field of dentistry and has spoken in every major city in the United States.

Dr. Brahe, who retired last April, flies 100,000 miles a year and averages one hour of public speaking per day. His principal interest is in the field of motivation.

Mass Appraisal Raises Average In Outagamie 13 Per Cent; Cuts Cities' Share of County Tax

Rural communities in Outagamie County, on the average, have fallen behind the cities, since 1958, in keeping abreast of current market values when making annual assessments.

The disclosure, which will have an impact on the 1966 equalized (full) assessed valuation figures to be presented to the Outagamie County Board Sept. 23, was made here Friday by state tax officials.

Robert Vosen and Glenn Niere, both from the district assessor's office at Fond du Lac, outlined results of a recent countywide appraisal conducted at a meeting of city officials and Appleton's county supervisors at city hall.

As result of deficiencies found in town and village assessments, when compared with the state's equalized formula, rural areas had equalizations boosted an average of 13 per cent.

The spread between the valuations compiled by the four cities — Appleton, Kaukauna, Seymour and New London — was but 6.88 per cent over the past seven-year period, state officials reported.

State officials did not disclose the equalization total for the entire county and intend to reserve that for the county board. However, they did dwell on the situation found in Appleton and cited it as being "quite favorable."

Vosen said it was almost eight years ago that a mass appraisal or inventory had been conducted in Outagamie County. Purpose of the periodic checks is to see that uniformity is maintained in the taxing districts.

Local Function

"Setting the values on individual properties is the function of the local assessor and we do not get into that area," Rosen said. He indicated hundreds of actual sales statistics, which represent full market value, were studied in the appraisal.

"Actually buyers and sellers of properties set the values," Rosen said.

He explained equalized valuation figures set by the state have an affect on the apportionment of county and school district taxes, among some 100 estimated uses.

State officials indicated this area is moving at a rapid pace in becoming more urban, and said land values were showing the largest increases according to the actual sales slips.

Sales Reported

It was estimated between 70 and 80 per cent of the sales consummated in Outagamie County were reported to the district assessor's office.

Vosen said the revision in Appleton's equalization over the past seven years was below the average for cities — 6.07 per cent — less than one per cent a year.

"Your city assessor, John Pierre is to be highly complimented for having very good uniformity," Vosen declared. "His records show that he has much more uniformity than anyone else in the county."

Earlier Mayor George Buckley praised Pierre's work, commenting, "In Mr. Pierre, Appleton feels it has the best assessor in the state."

$54 Million
It was disclosed that Appleton's equalized value on mercantile property is $54 million.

The city's real estate equalization was listed at $302,946,900 for the portion in Outagamie County.

The one precinct in the 9th Ward in Calumet County has an $11,100,500 equalized valuation on real estate.

To emphasize how values have increased in Outagamie County during the period 1958-66, Vosen said residential was up 39 per cent; mercantile, 54 per cent; and manufacturing, 51 per cent; for an overall average increase of 43 per cent.

"There is no doubt — the Fox Valley area is growing faster than most parts of the state outside Milwaukee," Vosen said.

Noting that Winneconne County also had a mass reappraisal for the first time in eight years, tax officials said Oshkosh was a "boom city" with its valuation increase being much higher than any city average in the Valley.

Winneconne County, by virtue of having considerable lakefront property, has a substantial increase in that area of appraising.

About eight of the city's 20 supervisors attended the meeting.

Outagamie County's new equalized valuation figures will lower the county tax levy for the cities and increase it for the rural areas.

Edward J. Kaska, 53, Found Dead Today At His Appleton Home

Edward J. Kaska, 53, 1919 N. Bennett St., was found dead in his bathroom about 7:10 a.m. today.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps, who investigated with Appleton police, said Kaska died of an apparent heart attack. He was pronounced dead at his home.

The Appleton Fire Department rescue squad was called at 7:13 a.m., but attempts to revive the man were unsuccessful. Both firemen and police administered oxygen.

Kaska, a Chicago native, lived in Appleton about eight years. He was a foreman at Appleton Machine Co.

The body was released to the Wichmann Funeral Home, where arrangements are incomplete.

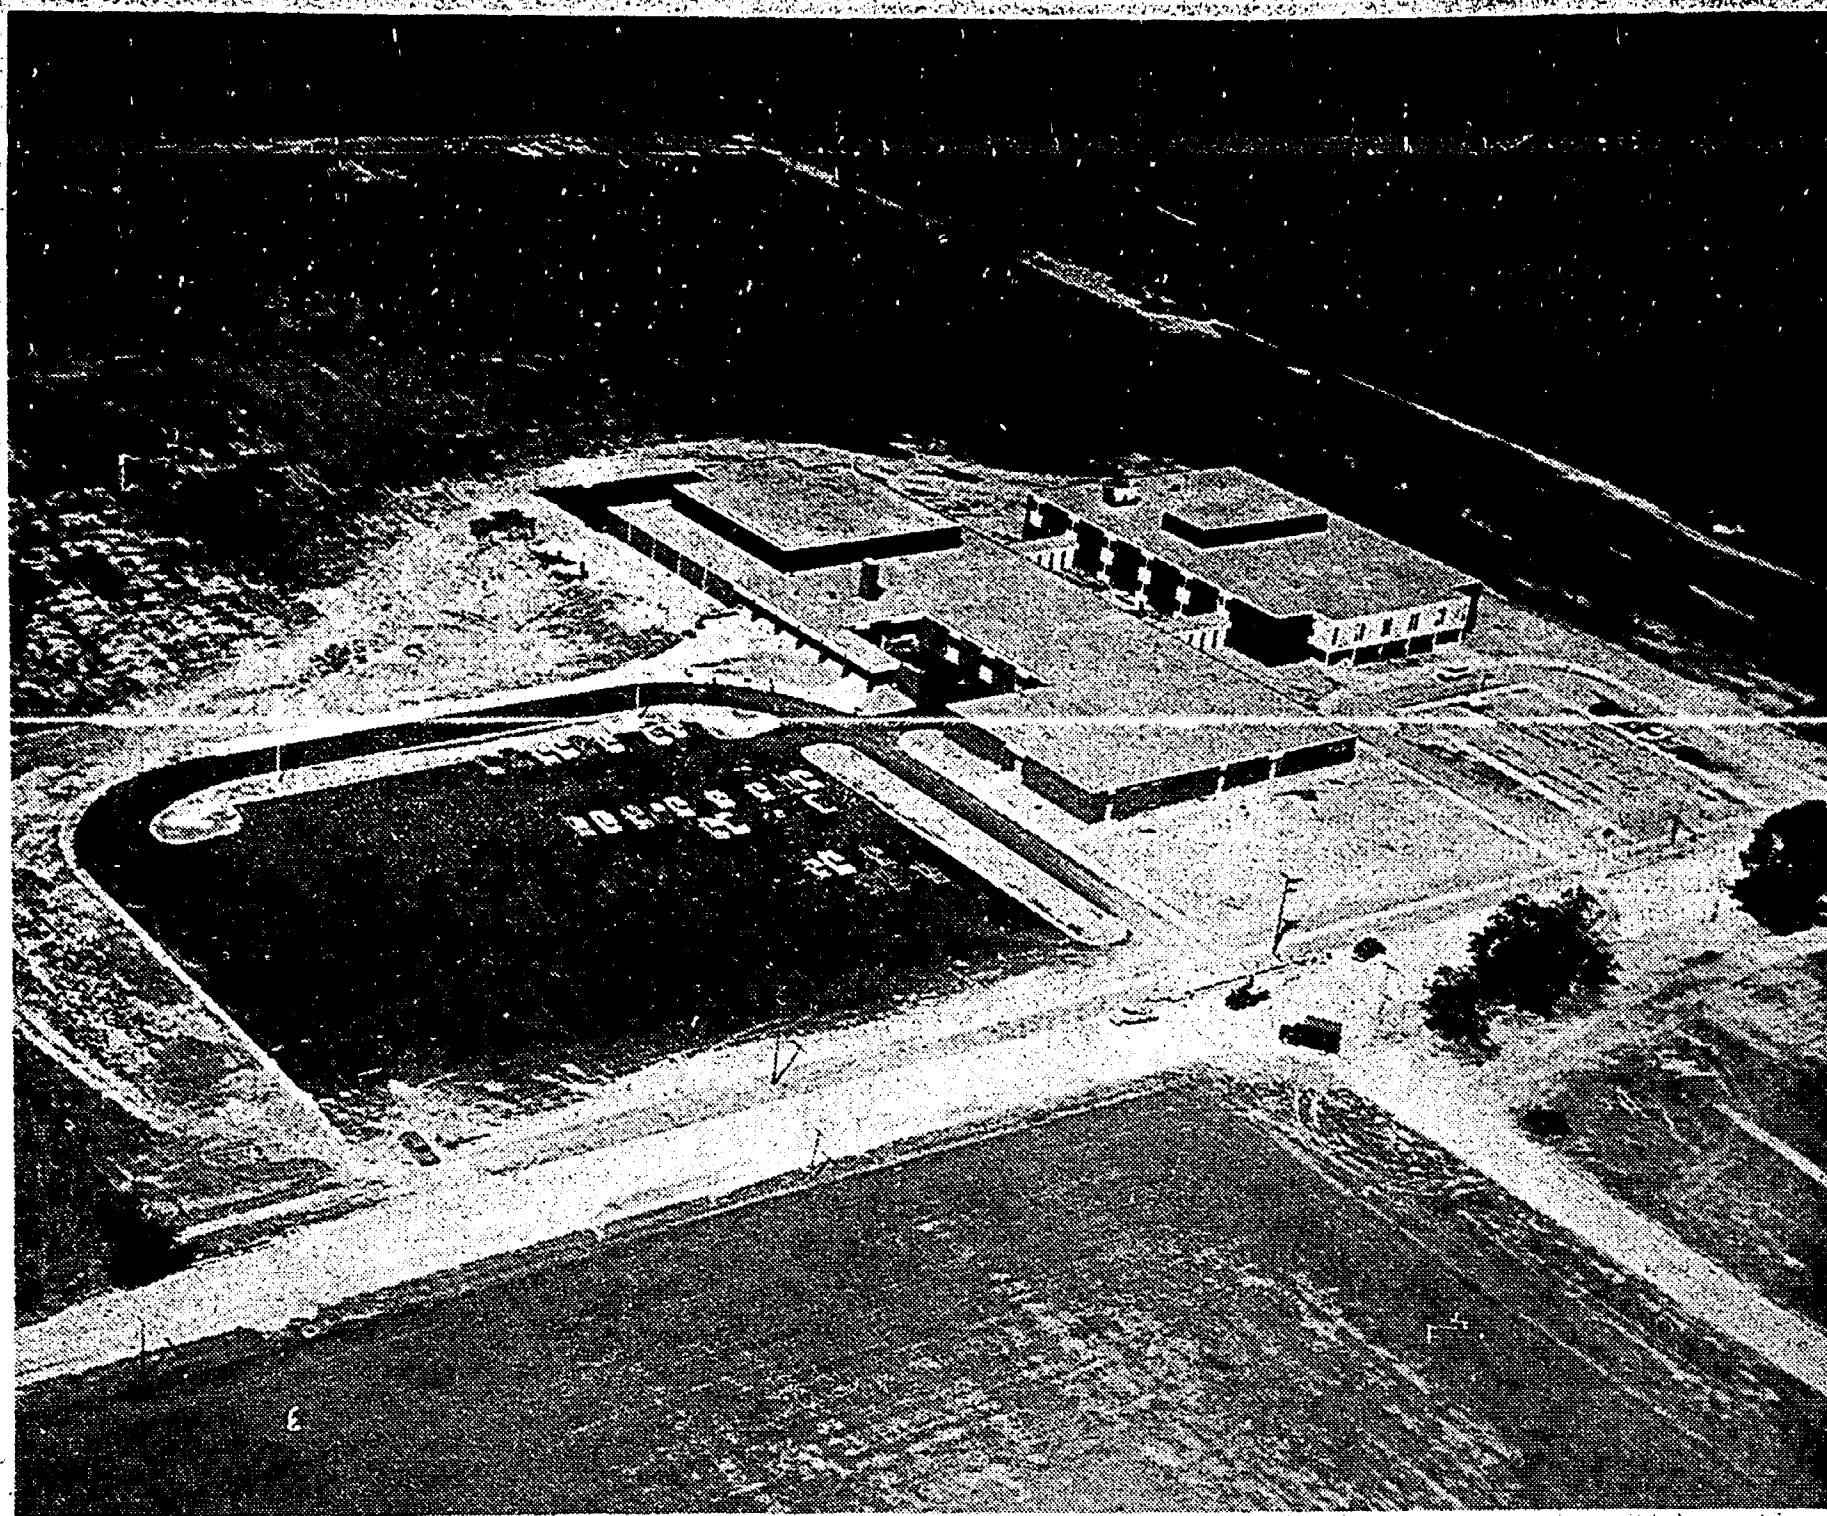

Edward Halbach, Milwaukee, who directed the moon-watching project Friday night, and early today, north of Appleton, makes a necessary adjustment in his eight-inch reflector. Halbach coordinated the work of 20 telescopes on a two-mile line.

Milwaukee Astronomical Society member, Stephan Ramthun, reports on radio near machine which electronically recorded the path of the moon across a star at Twelve Corners early this morning. (Post-Crescent Photos)

The James B. Conant Junior High School, Neenah's newest building project, looks like this to air travelers these days. Since Sept. 1, 688 students, grades seven through nine, have been using the academic classrooms in the two story building. The $2.2 million school, located on Tullar Road in southwest Neenah, was designed by Warren Holmes Co., Lansing, Mich., and built by Fluor

Bros. Construction Co., Oshkosh. Work on the building took 14 months, with a seven weeks delay last fall during a strike of ready-mix suppliers. The gymnasium will be completed and the complete complex delivered to the owners on Sept. 21. (Post-Crescent Aerial Photo)

Menasha's Street Construction Progresses Toward Completion

MENASHA — The city's two largest summer street construction projects are moving steadily toward completion. A minimum of three weeks more work is seen on the Racine Street project by the State Highway Commission supervisor on the job. Paving is expected to start within two to three weeks on

Washington Street, according to Robert Poss, public works director. The Racine Street project was initially timed for completion Sept. 18. That date will be passed, however, the supervisor said, because of the addition of more sidewalk construction than was originally in the contract. The street, which has been paved two weeks and is curing, will remain closed until the walks, curbs, gutters and other work have been finished, he said. The contractor would be about on schedule if the city had not ordered replacement of all walks, rather than some initially planned, he said.

About $20,000 worth of sidewalk construction was added, he estimated. The city and property owners are each paying half the cost.

About four day's work remains on curbs and gutters on the north end of the street, while less than a block of sidewalks have been installed, leaving some 12 days' work ahead. In addition, driveway aprons are still to be formed, terraces must be reshaped and other cleanup projects done.

According to Poss, the contractor on the Washington Street project has moved in a large crew of men and machinery to replace curbs and walks on the west side of the street and on the bridge. This will allow paving to start in two to three weeks, he said. The work halted briefly after work was completed on the east side of the street, then began moving slowly while most of the contractor's men and equipment were busy with other jobs.

Paper Firms Dumping Less Wastes in Rivers

Kimberly-Clark Executive Tells Council Of Expenditures for Pollution Abatement

A paper industry waste expert said today that current multimillion dollar outlays are enabling Wisconsin paper companies to make huge cuts in the amounts of waste discharged to rivers.

A list of moneys being spent or committed by individual firms to anti-pollution efforts—each ranging from well over a million to more than three million dollars—was presented to a conservation-minded audience by Richard M. Billings, assistant to the vice president, research and development, Kimberly-Clark Corp., Neenah.

Billings addressed the annual summer meeting at Rhinelander of the Wisconsin Resource Conservation Council (WRCC), an "association of associations" formed to promote certain conservation issues. Theme of the meeting was "A Wisconsin Community and its Water Resource Problems." Delegates studied the effect of municipal sewage and intensive shoreline residential development on Rhinelander-area waters, as well as that of industrial effluent.

Major Steps

Billings pointed out that major anti-pollution steps have been taken recently, or are currently in process, on all state rivers on which there are significant paper industry operations. He cited specific developments on the Fox, Wisconsin, Oconto, Menominee and Flambeau rivers. In addition, he said, "literally dozens" of previous installations throughout the state continue to help alleviate pollution problems.

Paper companies' total impact on Wisconsin rivers will be further lightened as owners switch to different pulping methods, or eliminate pulp mills altogether, as is the prospect for at least two in Wisconsin, Billings added.

Billings said "The problem may not be corrected entirely tomorrow, but you will be able to witness unprecedented progress tomorrow. Real progress can be seen today, for that matter, by anyone who will stop listening to the prophets of doom and start looking at the remarkable thrust of our water technology."

Rhinelander Tour

WRCC members toured yeast-making facilities at the Rhinelander Division plant of the St. Regis Paper Co. There, industry research led, in 1950, to an installation which converts spent sulfite liquor, a high oxygen-demanding effluent previously discharged into the Wisconsin River, to Torula yeast, a food protein for human and animal consumption.

The company's technical director, Dr. R. C. Crain, said, "Rhinelander now uses for yeast production all of the spent liquor it can collect. . . . The effect has been the removal from the river of a large portion of the waste and biochemical oxygen demand."

Dr. Crain said the cost of this facility has amounted to more than $3 million and that other stream improvement research and installations at Rhinelander have cost another $1 million. Furthermore, "engineering studies have been in progress for more than a year to develop plans for further reduction of waste discharge," he said.

No Contamination

Billings differentiated between effluents which contaminate water and those which pollute it. "The paper industry does not contaminate," he said. Paper mill effluents—wood and water, clay and starch, lime and soda, sulphur and bleach liquor—"create no health hazards," the Kimberly-Clark technologist declared. He added, "Neither are there any disease germs in our effluents, for disease germs come from human and animal sewage—not from an industrial process."

He said while some paper industry pollutants may render water undesirable or unsuitable for fishing or swimming or drinking, they do not render it hazardous.

Concerned About Cecil Rail Crossing

MENASHA — Town of Menasha officials are concerned about the safety of children alighting from school buses and steps will be taken to apprehend violating motorists, constable Robert Weyenberg said today. Weyenberg reported that he has received complaints from parents stating that drivers are going around stopped school buses which have their lights flashing.

The constable said this is a violation of state law and is especially dangerous because young children are crossing the road.

A new plan will be tried whereby youngsters will be discharged at a point where they will not be required to cross the street. The sheriff's department also has agreed to have a squad car in the town area next week, Weyenberg reported.

Eagles Back Amending

MENASHA — The Fraternal Order of Eagles throughout the country is spearheading a drive urging congress to enact the proposed constitutional amendment of Senator Everett Dirksen of Illinois, which would permit voluntary participation in prayer by students in public schools. Announcement of the drive's part in the campaign was made today by Martin Arno, worthy president of the Menasha Aerie.

Banta Adds $200,000 Warehouse

MENASHA — Construction of a $200,000 warehouse addition to the Geo. Banta Co. Midway Road Plant in the Town of Menasha is well under way.

Workmen for the P. G. Miron Construction Co., Appleton, have laid the concrete floor and raised the steel framework for the L-shaped addition on the northeast corner of the existing building.

Metal roof plates are being put in place while masons raise the brick walls. The single-level structure will measure 250 feet along each of the two outside walls.

A spokesman for the publishing firm said the completion date is indefinite.

The growth of the Banta complex on Midway Road has been steady since the construction of the new plant was started there in 1946. The major portion of the plant was completed in 1954, but there have been additions to the warehouse.

County Mishaps Injure 2 Persons

OSHKOSH — Two injuries were reported in Winnebago County traffic accidents early this morning.

Mrs. Gene T. Nelson, 744 Wisconsin St., Fond du Lac, suffered head and leg injuries when her car rolled over after she lost control of the vehicle on County Trunk I south of Oshkosh at 1:15 a.m. She was taken to Mercy Hospital.

Stephen Raehl, 18, route 1, Winneconne, sustained undetermined injuries when his car hit a tree at County Trunk T and Larsen Road at 12:28 a.m. Raehl was traveling south on County Trunk T and his car skidded and hit the tree while he was attempting to turn onto Larsen Road, according to county police.

Menasha Bike Mishap Hospitalizes Girl, 11

MENASHA — Dana Scherer, 11, was listed in satisfactory condition today in Theda Clark Memorial Hospital with a fractured arm received when she fell from her bicycle near St. Mary School at 5:15 p.m. Friday.

The accident was witnessed by a police officer, who drove the girl to the hospital in a squad car. The girl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey J. Scherer, 612 Broad St.

Charges Dismissed Against Neenah Man; Returned to Hospital

OSHKOSH — A charge of drunk and disorderly conduct against William Barnes, 43, Valley Inn, Neenah, was dismissed Friday afternoon and he was ordered returned to the alcoholic center at Winnebago State Hospital by Judge James V. Sitter.

Barnes, who was on a conditional release from the alcoholic center, was arrested by Neenah police early Tuesday morning. At his arraignment Friday morning, Barnes complained that efforts to return him to Winnebago State were because of his race. He is a Negro.

Beer to Minor Fine

OSHKOSH — James Sylvestor, 30, 334 Naymut St., Menasha, pleaded no contest Friday on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and was fined $75 by Judge James V. Sitter. The offense involved giving beer to a 14-year-old boy.

Good-By Said To Father Stoegbauer

MENASHA — The 645 students at St. Mary High School presented Rev. Donald Stoegbauer school administrator for the past eight years with two gifts Wednesday afternoon. . . . one a personal gift, the other a spiritual bouquet, were presented by Jack Carew, president, and Mary Ellen Asmuth, vice president of the school's Student Council.

Father Stoegbauer rose to the occasion with tear-filled eyes and silent vocal cords.

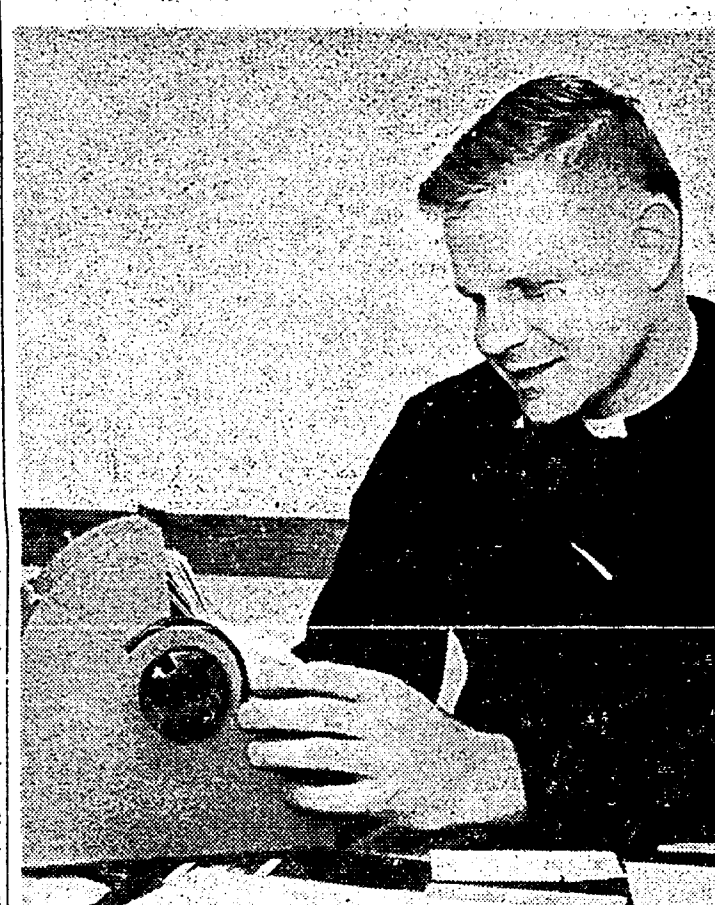

"We come here today with mixed feelings, Father, because each one of us loves you dearly," Carew said as spokesman for his fellow students. "Each one of us was a special person to you. You never spared yourself at any time, day or night, when we needed you. Time, work, worry, money meant nothing to you in your dedication to serve."

"Your powerful example and prayers will remain a part of our lives forever," he concluded.

The St. Mary's gymnasium was quieter than it has ever been as boys and girls filed out into the September sunshine.

Veterans Meeting

NEENAH — Barracks No. 2318, World War I veterans will hold their regular monthly meeting at the recreation building at 2 p.m. Monday.

Rev. David Kiefer, new administrator at St. Mary's High School, Menasha, spent a busy week learning the names and faces of the 645 boys and girls who will look to him this year for a continuing school enthusiasm in athletics and as their spiritual leader. He assumed the new role on Tuesday when Rev. Donald Stoegbauer, administrator for the past eight years, left to assume pastoral duties at St. Mary Catholic Church, Florence, Wis. (Post-Crescent Photo)

St. Mary High School Gets Administrator

MENASHA — Rev. David Kiefer, new administrator at St. Mary's High School, was the happiest man in Menasha Friday when the 3:31 p.m. school bell rang. It marked the end of a busy week which set him spinning through a maze of new responsibilities.

He steps into the position occupied for eight years by Rev. Donald Stoegbauer and out of his own role as an assistant pastor of St. Mary's parish where he has served for the past three years. He knows many of the 645 high school students by sight, and some of them he knows well.

No major changes in school policy are contemplated, he said. "If Father Kiefer's performance as a parish priest is any measure of what can be expected of him at St. Mary's High School, the students will find him a good confidant, hard working, sincere, firm when the situation calls for firmness and always understanding," says his predecessor Father Stoegbauer.

As Christians

What are his thoughts about Catholic High School education? They are, in his own words, "First, I want to see the young people in this school fully meeting their community responsibilities. As young Christians they should bring to bear a Christian influence into every sphere of their lives — on the athletic field, in the academic area, in social situations — wherever they are."

"The primary objective has been and shall remain — to make each student aware that

Set Indigency Hearing in Robbery Case

OSHKOSH — An indigency hearing was ordered for 1:30 p.m. Monday for Kenneth Anderson, 23, Parnell, Mich., who was charged Friday with armed robbery in an Oshkosh auto theft Wednesday morning.

The indigency hearing is to determine whether Anderson is eligible for a court-appointed attorney.

Anderson was returned from Iron Mountain, Mich., Friday by Sheriff Marvin Peppier. He was arrested there Thursday morning, several hours after the stolen car was found.

Two young men stole a car at gun point about 6:50 a.m. Wednesday from Mrs. Virginia Strauss, 3975 Candlish Harbor, rural Oshkosh, after they had wrecked another stolen car while trying to elude Oshkosh police. The first car was stolen in Fond du Lac.

A 17-year-old Fond du Lac youth is being held by Fond du Lac police in connection with the car thefts.

Anderson told Judge James V. Sitter he did not want an attorney. However, Judge Sitter said that in view of the seriousness of the charge he should have an attorney before entering a plea.

Farewell Party Slated For Father Clifford

NEENAH — Members and friends of St. Gabriel parish are invited to a farewell reception for Father Michael Clifford, assistant pastor at St. Gabriel's parish for the past five years, who has been appointed associate editor of the Green Bay Register and will assume duties there Tuesday. The fete will be from 8 to 11 p.m. Sunday in the school cafeteria.

Ray Keifer, Sr., Green Bay, where he was born and raised. A graduate of Central Catholic High School (Premontre) he studied philosophy at Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C., and theology at North American College, Rome, Italy. He was ordained in 1962 in Christ the King Church, Rome, and said his first mass at St. Peter's Basilica there.

After another year of study in Rome he came to St. Mary's as assistant pastor in September 1963.

You Never Miss the water until the pool runs dry. The Neenah swimming pool has been drained after a successful summer season. Cool weather in August and the Labor Day weekend prevented the pool from setting an all-time attendance record this summer. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Vote to Decide Fate Of Brillion School

Referendum Slated Tuesday on Proposed $1.35 Million Bond

BRILLION — Voters of the Brillion School District will decide the fate of the proposed new high school construction here in a bond referendum Tuesday.

After nearly 18 months of studying suggested sites and reviewing total construction cost figures, the board of education and building committee are seeking approval of a $1,350,000 expenditure for a new high school on the 25-acre Eichhorst-Pagel property which borders the present school site. Construction there would permit joint use of some facilities, resulting in greater economy in both construction and operation costs, school board members feel.

The building program is necessitated by already crowded classroom conditions, according to school officials. They cite increasing enrollments, school census figures and community growth as indications of need for a new high school.

Leveling Period

Parochial and public school enrollment figures show the high school is in the last year of a three-year leveling period and next year the enrollment will start another steady climb.

Contemplated industrial expansion, more housing developments and development of a trailer court here could increase enrollments, they contend.

If the referendum to bond is approved, Tuesday, the $14.95 tax levy okayed at the annual school meeting in July would get an additional $3.15 per $1,000 of equalized valuation tacked to it to finance the school.

The bond referendum would grant permission to the school board to issue bonds to finance building construction. The referendum names the site, but does not authorize purchase of land. Land purchase can be authorized only at a public district meeting. A special meeting would be called immediately after a favorable referendum vote to give formal approval to purchase the property.

Option Expires

The district's land option on the proposed site expires Sept. 25.

Members of the school district — comprised of the cities or towns of Brillion, Rockland, Maple Grove, Holland, Morrison, Rantoul and Woodville in Manitowoc, Brown and Calumet counties — will vote at the same polling places as those to be used at the Tuesday primary election.

Berner, Schober and Kilp, Green Bay architectural firm, and Ehlers and Associates, Inc., financial consultants, have worked with the school board and building committee regarding the construction program.

Patrolman At Clintonville Files Suit

WAUPACA — Henry Steenbock, a Clintonville Police Department patrolman, is seeking $50,000 from an Embarrass man and his insurance company for injuries the patrolman suffered when he struck a car at a Clintonville intersection. The suit was filed Thursday with Waupaca County Clerk of Courts, Orin Stevenson.

Named as defendants in the case were Cleon L. Winter, Embarrass, and the State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Co.

Steenbock was injured Nov. 22, 1963, when he was struck by the car driven by Winter. At the time, the patrolman was directing traffic at the intersection of Main and 12th Sts.

The injured man has claimed he suffered a broken right leg, back injuries plus multiple bruises and was unable to work for nine months.

East De Pere Tips Bonduel

BONDUEL — East DePere scored the first time it got the ball and then hung on the rest of the way for 7-0 win over Bonduel in a Northeastern Wisconsin Conference opener here Friday night.

After Bonduel had punted from its own 3-yard line in the early minutes, the Red Devils' Jay Shryock returned to the Bears' 29.

The shifty halfback then carried twice for 24 yards to the five, and, two plays later, crashed over for the score.

Bonduel's best scoring chances came on three different occasions following partially blocked punts, but all the opportunities failed to produce a score.

The Bears' Gary Uehlman was responsible for two of the deflected punt tries.

Wittenberg, Gillett Tie

Maroons Build Big Edge in Statistics, But Deadlock, 6-6

WITTENBERG — Despite an overwhelming statistics edge by Wittenberg's Wildcats, the Maroons had to thwart a fourth-period extra-point try in order to gain a 6-6 tie with Gillett in a non-conference game here Friday night.

The Central Wisconsin Conference entry was knocking on the door all night, before finally getting its only tally in the third period on a 45-yard run by Jerry Anonsen.

Gillett rallied for the equalizer in the final stanza, after recovering a Wittenberg fumble on the Wildcats' 12-yard line.

Four plays later, Ron Kuhn plunged over from the two, but the running try for the PAT was foiled by the Wittenberg defense.

The Maroons, who tallied 17 first downs to Gillett's seven and posted a 218-110 over-all yardage edge, were foiled again in the final seconds as they rolled to the enemy five as time ran out.

Lionettes to Hear Home Economist

NEW LONDON — Louise Fellows, home economist for the Wisconsin Gas Co., will be the guest speaker as the New London Lionettes resume meetings at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Rainbow Supper Club.

Mrs. Duane Brown, Mrs. Don Pederson and Mrs. William Rice are program chairmen for September.

Big Fourth Quarter

Chilton Downs Kohler 31-13 for EWC Win

CHILTON — An underdog Kohler High School football team played highly regarded Chilton on even terms for the first three quarters of their Eastern Wisconsin Conference opener here before the Tigers exploded for three touchdowns in the final period of play to score a 31-13 triumph over the visiting Blue Bombers.

Elsewhere in the conference Plymouth trounced New Holstein, 45-0, in a game that had been rated a toss-up; Kiel edged Elkhart Lake, 7-0; Oostburg defeated Cedar Grove, 19-7, and Sheboygan Falls smashed Valders, 34-0.

Chilton scored the first time they got their hands on the ball with quarterback John Hauser connecting with end Jim Pfeffer on a 51-yard touchdown scoring play. Pfeffer kicked the extra point to add the seventh point on the 58-yard drive.

Kohler Scores

Kohler came back on the next series with Merrill Miller scoring from one yard out. Miller also kicked the extra point to tie the score. It was a 61-yard drive, aided by two Chilton penalties.

The Tigers scored again the second quarter when Hauser ended the 85-yard drive by sneaking the final two yards for the score. The kick for the extra point failed.

Kohler started the second half by kicking off to Chilton and recovering a fumble on Chilton's 17-yard line. A few plays later quarterback John Hammer hit end Mike McCombie for a 13-yard touchdown pass play. The extra point kick was blocked.

The fourth period's second play found Chilton's McHugh racing around left end for a 10-yard touchdown. The drive covered 58 yards. The extra point kick was wide.

Lead Increased

Chilton increased its lead to 25-13 when Hauser, on a keeper, went over left tackle for seven yards and the touchdown. It was a 32-yard drive with Hauser and Flemming hooking up for the big yardage on a 29-yard pass play. The kick for the extra point failed.

Scoring ended late in the period when Hauser and McHugh got together on a pass play that covered 60 yards with McHugh outracing three defenders. The try for extra point was blocked.

Chilton picked up a total of 393 yards, 179 rushing and 214 passing, compared with Kohler's total yardage of 139, 51 rushing and 88 passing. The Tigers collected 10 first downs, Kohler seven. Chilton lost 62 yards in penalties and Kohler had three penalties for 25 yards.

McHugh was the leading ground gainer with 97 yards in nine carries. He also caught two passes for 67 yards.

Quarterback Hauser hit on 7 of 11 passing attempts plus rushing for 61 yards in 11 carries.

Leading rusher for Kohler was Miller with 40 yards in eight carries. Kohler completed 11 of 26 passes and had one intercepted.

Paper Firm Executives Work for Red Feather

Fox River President, Sales Vice President Head Large Firms Division of Campaign

Two men from Fox River Paper Corp. will head the large firms division of the 1966 United Red Feather campaign, according to Richard Van Sistine, general chairman. They are H. P. Dixon, president, and H. O. Barney, vice president for sales.

Both men have been active in Red Feather campaigns in the past and in United Community Services work. Dixon was chairman of the large firms division in 1964. Barney served on the UCS budget committee in 1960, was elected vice president of the board in 1961, and president in 1962.

Presently Dixon is chairman and chairman-elect of the Outagamie Chapter of the American Red Cross, which this year, along with the Outagamie Mental Health Association, joined the Red Feather Campaign.

"Those of us who are members of the Red Cross board are especially anxious to help make this campaign a success," Dixon said. "We want to prove that we are behind united giving, and we can do this best by pitching in where there is work to be done."

In addition to his UCS and Red Cross activities, Dixon is a member of several Appleton Chamber of Commerce committees and a board member of the YMCA, a Red Feather agency.

"As a member of the YMCA, I use their facilities, as do many other industrialists and businessmen," Dixon said. "It's as much a part of my life as the Elks Club and the North Shore Golf Club." Dixon is a past trustee and exalted ruler of the Elks.

Barney is a member of Rotary, Appleton Tax Payers Alliance and Butte des Morts Golf Club.

Dixon and Barney already are contacting the more than 40 firms in their division. They will ask each firm to appoint a firm chairman, and, when necessary, will call in loaned executives from other firms to help set up individual industrial campaigns.

1,116 Pupils, 26 More Than Last Year, Enroll in Wittenberg Schools

WITTENBERG — Registration on Thursday in all units of the Joint School District No. 3 showed an enrollment of 1,116, an increase of 26 over 1965 figures. Late registrations are still anticipated.

Enrollment in the Galloway-Elderon unit was 265 with 468 in the Eland-Wittenberg unit for a district total of 753 in kindergarten through eighth grade. The total is 10 more than last year.

High school registrations totaled 363, an increase of 16. The "one-grade-per-teacher" plan which was approved by the Board of Education at the Feb. 28 meeting, was put into effect at the beginning of this fall term. The transfer will equalize pupil-teacher ratios and class sizes between the four schools.

Conservation Group Hits Reorganization, Defies LaFollette Plan

Denounces Proposal by Kellett Committee; Rejects Secret Session on 'Squatter' Suit

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

HUDSON — A belligerent Wisconsin Conservation Commission Friday declared war on a state government reorganization commission and then defied Atty. Gen. Bronson LaFollette by refusing to go into a secret session to discuss his strategy in a long-delayed lawsuit.

Holding a regular monthly meeting in this distant northwestern corner of the state, the commission ran through its ordinary calendar of business and then in a barrage of prepared statements by its members, angrily denounced a pending plan to abolish the State Conservation Department and its policy-making board by joining it and other agencies in a new state Department of Natural Resources.

Such reorganization would destroy a nationally-distinguished conservation program and create chaos in a field where Wisconsin had obtained leadership over a period of 40 years.

LUCEY for GOVERNOR

PATRICK LUCEY is the outstanding Democratic choice for Governor. During the past two years, while serving as our Lieutenant Governor, Patrick Lucey has been the forceful spokesman for Democratic aims and ideals in Wisconsin.

the commission said in a blistering letter to William R. Kellett of Menasha. He is chairman of the blue ribbon reorganization group which is working under a mandate of the state legislature.

Eviction Orders

The dispute with LaFollette grew out of a lawsuit started by the commission to evict about 40 "squatters" from Devils Lake State Park in southern Wisconsin, which is being prosecuted by the attorney general's office. LaFollette has issued stern directives to state officers about compliance with the state's anti-secrecy law, and the members of the commission apparently relished the opportunity to put him in a contradictory position, as they saw it.

LaFollette sent Robert McConnell, one of his assistants, to the commission meeting here to explain that state officers are allowed under the anti-secrecy law to meet privately for consultations with their legal counsel. But the commission in a 3-3 vote killed a motion to adjourn to executive session.

Later, McConnell arranged with commission chairman James Smaby to argue the matter in a formal letter which may be taken up at another commission meeting next month.

'No Progress'

Charles F. Smith of Wausau complained that LaFollette's office has made no visible progress in more than a year in removing the park's tenants who have retained their homesites illegally, boasted that the commission has held no secret meetings in at least 15 years, and asserted that there is a profound public interest in "this matter of preventing 40 squatters from defying the rights of the 4 million people of Wisconsin."

The commission's quarrel about its proposed merger with other agencies arises out of the little-known fact that the Legislature a year ago declared its intention to set up in 1967 a new and consolidated natural resources department, and directed the Kellett Commission to prepare such a plan.

It was tentative draft of such a bill that drew the wrathful and unanimous condemnation of the conservation commissioners.

Asks For Hearing
Smaby's letter to Kellett demands a full-dress hearing on the issue, and asserts that the reorganization suggested would return the conservation program to the political arena from which it has been isolated for decades.

The commission said that such a change would put conservation under the control of "politically appointed men" who would shift views and policies with each change of governors at Madison. Conservation needs continuity, and absolute independence of partisan political influence, the letter declared.

In other major actions here, the commission:

1. Adopted the 1967 game fishing code, which contains only minor adjustments of regulations now in effect. One change restores a July 1 opening for black bass fishing in the outlying waters of Door County, to comply with insistent demands from that area over half a dozen years.

2. Discussed favorably but postponed to a later meeting creation of major new state park on the Willow River in St. Croix County, on Lake Pepin in the Mississippi River, and on Lake Michigan in Ozaukee County, on the recommendation of a new recreation advisory committee headed by Wayne J. Hood of LaCrosse.

Purchase Wolf Land

3. Approved the first purchases of land in a big acquisition program planned to protect for public use frontage on the famous Wolf River in Langlade County, a project that ultimately will involve about 30 miles of stream and about $1 million in cost.

4. Adopted a policy statement pledging that the state conservation services will exercise the utmost care in the use of pesticides in state parks and forests and will use only the degradable types.

5. Ordered public hearings on proposed rules for the administration of Wolf River shorelands leased from Menominee Enterprises, Inc., in Menominee County for public use under a new act of the state legislature. Among the suggested rules would be defined public camping grounds, prohibition of hunting, and the reservation of a stretch of the river for trout fishing with flies only.

6. Informally endorsed a request of chairman Smaby for the draft of legislation for the consideration of the next legislature that would set up a state-wide system of rules for water skiing, to protect the rights of fishermen in public waters.

Cudahy Woman Is Hospitalized After Car Crash

Mrs. John Zakovich, Cudahy, was taken by ambulance to New London Community Hospital after a car driven by her husband was involved in a head-on collision about 10:20 p.m. Friday on State 76 at Outagamie County Trunk S.

Mrs. Zakovich received a head laceration and a bruised knee, according to a state patrolman who investigated the accident along with county police.

Driver of the second car was Donald E. Schroeder, 32, 310 Valley St., Horicon. State police said the Zakovich car was attempting to make a right turn from State 76 onto S and the Schroeder car was southbound on 76 when the accident occurred. Schroeder lost control of his vehicle and struck the Zakovich car head-on, police said.

The fronts of both vehicles were extensively damaged.

SHOWERS and Thunderstorms are expected in the Gulf Coast region, the Tennessee Valley and parts of the southern plateaus tonight. It will be cooler in parts of the northern plains, the northern lakes region and most of New England, with little change forecast in the rest of the country. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Ask Dismissal Of Charges Against Solon

Judge Takes Motion On Fond du Lac Case Under Advisement

FOND DU LAC — County Judge Hazen McEsey took under advisement a motion to dismiss charges against a city alderman charged with profiting on a city land transaction.

Testimony ended Friday in county court Branch 2 on charges against George Rottman Jr., who is a city real estate broker and allegedly shared in an $8,400 commission with an associate, Verne K. Dille, who transacted a real estate transaction between the city and James and Thomas Sullivan in December, 1965.

Louis Magnuson, an Oshkosh attorney, representing Rottman moved for dismissal on the grounds of insufficient evidence. An investigation by Thomas Massey, district attorney and the State Real Estate Commission precluded the charges leveled at Rottman.

Records Examined
During the investigation Dille's records were examined and on the stub of the check written in the amount of the commission to Rottman was the notation "co-broke," indicating another broker participated in the deal.

Dille received his broker's license on June 7, 1965, and on July 7 became associated with Rottman.

Both Dille and Rottman contended that a stipulation of the association was that Dille would be able to consummate the deal on his own without paying anything to Rottman.

Judge McEsey said he would have a decision within 10 days on the disposition of the case.

involving 58.7 acres of land just northwest of the Outagamie County Airport, in the Town of Greenville.

A lease on the county-owned land is being sought by a development firm which intends to establish a recreation center in that area. The firm reportedly already has purchased 240 acres of land adjoining the county property.

A lease proposal was presented Aug. 31 to the county board's executive committee; but it was referred back to the property unit. There reportedly were changes made in the lease agreement after it was referred back.

Stricter regulations and enforcement in county parks will be sought in a resolution from the parks and recreation committee. Provisions being sought in the lengthy resolution include tighter control over vehicle speed, animals in the park, shooting, vandalism and park hours. Specific penalties are designated for violation of the proposed rules.

The agriculture and conservation committee will seek approval on two measures Monday. Inclusion of $2,700 in the 1967 county budget will be proposed for the hiring of a full time 4-H home economics agent.

The agent would be employed by the University of Wisconsin Extension Service, with the county paying $2,000 a year toward salary, and $700 for mileage. The agent would start Jan. 1, according to provisions of the resolution.

A matching fund allocation for improvement of fish and wildlife habitat in Outagamie County will be sought in a second agriculture and conservation committee request.

The State of Wisconsin would match county funds, on acreage basis.

Also on the board agenda is a resolution from the executive committee calling for the transfer of $1,000 from the general fund to supplement the budget of the county's family court commissioner.
